

Cafe Split-Shift, 9-Hour Work Day In Lumbering End

Board of Industrial Relations regulations eliminating the 54-hour week in the lumbering industry east of the Cascades and prohibiting split-shift working hours for female employees of restaurants were announced today by Adam Bell, board chairman.

The new order for the restaurant trade covers women and girls working in restaurants and hotel dining-rooms and provides that no such person shall be employed between midnight and 6 the following morning unless her employment is continuous during that period.

"This is intended to stop the practice of broken shifts which make it necessary for female employees to travel to and from work in the deep hours of night when transportation facilities are not available and the hazards attendant to such circumstances are frequently encountered," said Mr. Bell.

This regulation comes into effect on Oct. 15.

"A regulation that has remained in force since 1925 permitting a nine-hour day and 54-hour week in the lumbering industry east of the Cascade Mountains has been canceled," Mr. Bell continued. "This means that as from the end of October this year the eight-hour day and 48-hour week in the lumbering industry will become the maximum standard throughout the entire province."

NO EFFECT ON ISLAND

This regulation does not affect the logging and lumbering industry west of the Cascades where the eight-hour day and 48-hour week has always been the legal maximum.

"These limits do not apply to persons holding positions of supervision and management and limited hours in excess of the maximum are allowed by the regulations in the case of certain key positions such as engineers and millwrights," Mr. Bell said. "Provision is also made for extra hours in event of mechanical breakdowns."

Mayhew Appointed Aide to Isley

City M.P. Urges Victoria Named First Free Port

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister King in the Commons this afternoon announced the appointment of R. W. Mayhew, Lib., Victoria, as Parliamentary Assistant to Finance Minister Isley and W. C. Macdonald, Lib., Halifax, and Lt.-Col. Hughes Lapointe, Lib., Lotbiniere, Que., as Parliamentary Assistants to Defence Minister Abbott.

Mr. Mayhew's new post with its added responsibilities comes to him after serving in the House of Commons as a member for Victoria since he was chosen in a by-election Nov. 29, 1937.

Mr. Macdonald, who resigned as parliamentary assistant to the Defence Ministry during the Cabinet crisis on conscription last year, will be Mr. Abbott's assistant for naval affairs. He has been a member of the Commons since the general election of 1940.

Mr. Lapointe, who served with the Regiment de La Chaudiere in the 3rd Division which assaulted the Normandy beaches on D-Day, June 6, 1944, expressed himself as being opposed to conscription at last autumn's emergency session of Parliament and he voted against the government on the conscription issue.

However, he had been widely reported as a possible parliamentary assistant under Mr. Abbott, who has assumed both army and naval affairs and who seems likely to take over the Air Ministry when the three services are consolidated under one minister.

Leut.-Col. Lapointe has been a member of the Commons since 1940.

Invite Security Council Here

By NORMAN MACLEOD

OTTAWA—Proposals to make Victoria Canada's first free port and the permanent seat of the United Nations' Security Council as well have been laid before Prime Minister King and are receiving his consideration.

Their sponsor is R. W. Mayhew, Liberal M.P. for Victoria, a veteran now of three parliaments, and recognized widely as one of the most influential members on the government side of the House.

Adoption of the free port project rests entirely on government decision, and, Mr. Mayhew is optimistic over the prospects for success if the matter is pressed with sufficient vigor and the representations which he has made are followed through.

The question of making Victoria the seat of the World Security Council is, of course, one for international action. Federal circles believe, however, that Victoria can put forward strong attractions for selection, especially if given the international character which status as a free port would lend it.

Middle Powers Have Strong Claim

For one thing, there is a strong feeling internationally that the seat of the Security Council should not be located in one of the great powers states nor yet in one of the little nations, but rather in the territories of one of the secondary or middle powers.

Canada's central location is regarded as giving her strong claims, and Victoria's position with respect to the Pacific, which is expected to be the most important diplomatic theatre of the years immediately ahead, is recognized as making her a logical choice among Canadian cities.

The prospect of becoming a free port opens up to Victoria, it is realized here, an entirely new era of port and industrial expansion. A free port is one to which bulk cargoes may be brought and landed without payment of customs duties, broken up into smaller lots and transhipped to other ports, or packaged and processed and then transhipped. Strategically located as she is at the end of the trans-Pacific run, Victoria is recognized as offering unusual possibilities for successful development into one of the great free ports of the world. At the present time there is no free port on the Pacific coast in either the United States or Canada.

Another Big 3 Meeting Possible As Foreign Ministers Bog Down

LONDON (AP)—Belief that another meeting of Prime Minister Attlee, President Truman and Marshal Stalin may be necessary to iron out Europe's major peace problems was voiced in some quarters today as the Foreign Ministers' Council prepared to close its two weeks' session with the record of important agreements precisely at zero.

Some delegates still spoke hopefully of a second session of the Big Five foreign ministers in December, but this could be arranged only if the deputies are able to work out solutions for the many problems tossed their way by the foreign ministers.

There has been no formal mention of another session of the major powers' leaders, but the thought has been expressed by some delegates that top-level consideration may be needed to smooth the rocky path to European agreements.

These sources felt it might be necessary to include Gen. de Gaulle in such a meeting. The French here have been reported resentful of what was termed an attempt by the Russians to exclude them from consideration of certain problems—particularly the Balkan discussions.

The French were expected to try to force consideration of plans for western Germany before the council adjourns today.

but there seemed little likelihood of success in that direction.

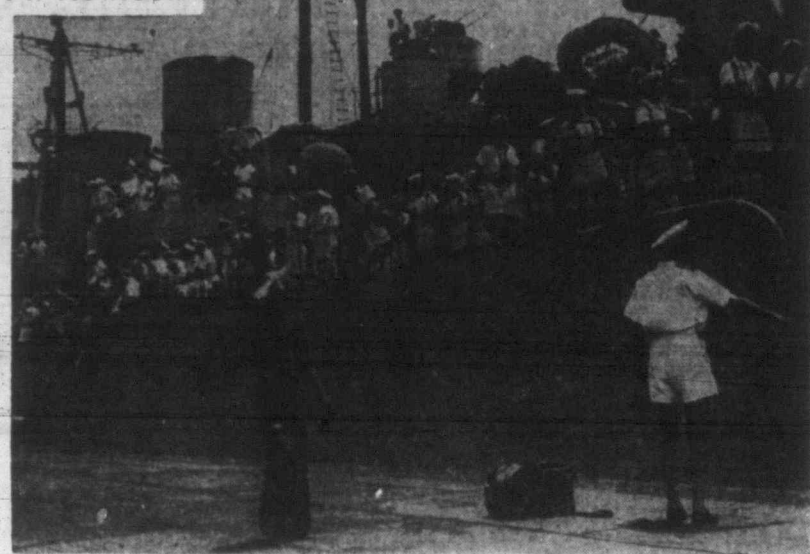

Final conference talks were expected to be concentrated on European inland waterways and the Soviet demand for acceleration in the repatriation of Russian nations. The present snag in the latter problem is on the formula for deciding just who is Russian, in view of frontier changes.

Russia claims some Poles as citizens, even though the Poles in some instances have refused to return to their homes in eastern Poland, which became part of the Soviet Union when the border was moved west.

Leonard Merritt, 63, 2737 Richmond Avenue, died in Royal Jubilee Hospital today following a collision late Monday afternoon between his automobile at Fernwood Road and Haultain Street. Police who went to the scene of the accident said Mr. Merritt suffered a fractured skull and nose. His automobile, proceeding east on Haultain Street, was in collision with a car traveling north on Fernwood Road driven, police said, by William C. Glover, 2826 Prior Street.

Hirohito Gives First Interview, Says He Wanted War Rules Kept

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times in a special dispatch from Tokyo today quoted Emperor Hirohito as saying in an interview that he had no intention of having his war rescript employed as former Premier Hideki Tojo used it when Japan launched her sneak attack on Pearl Harbor.

Hirohito told the Times Tokyo correspondent, Frank L. Kluckhohn, that he had expected Tojo to declare war against the United States in the usual, formal manner, if necessary.

The Emperor stated, Kluckhohn reported, that he was opposed to war as an instrument of policy and pledged that any social changes in Japan would be made by constitutional means. He said he would favor a constitutional monarchy like that of the British.

Kluckhohn said his interview had been authorized by both the Emperor and Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

LIVES IN COTTAGE

Describing his reception by Hirohito, the correspondent wrote:

"Dressed in a black morning coat, striped trousers and white shirt, with a stiff wing collar and a black tie, Emperor Hirohito received me standing before an ordinary chair that served as his throne in a large, rather magnificent room on the third floor of the Ministry of the Imperial Household within the Imperial Palace grounds. The main palace was burned by incendiary bombs and the Emperor is living in a good-size cottage on the same grounds."

Household within the Imperial Palace grounds. The main palace was burned by incendiary bombs and the Emperor is living in a good-size cottage on the same grounds.

"There was no formality, however. I did not bow, nor was I asked to do so. I walked straight across what was an essentially bare chamber, and the Emperor extended his hand, which I shook."

Kluckhohn said he was the first U.S. citizen to see the Emperor since the war began, and the first foreigner to interview him since the Japanese surrender.

HIS HANDS SHAKE

"My initial impression," the correspondent added, "was that he was about the average height of the Japanese, that he looked solemn, and that he talked with emphasis. He looked straight into my face as he spoke, eyeing me through rimless spectacles. It was apparent that the war had been a strain on him and, although he looked well, he had several nervous mannerisms, and his hand shook slightly."

"Talking through an interpreter, the Emperor, who stood with his hands rigidly at his sides about a foot before me, asked me where I had come from, and expressed the hope that I would interpret accurately the Japanese scene. I assured him that I would."

Meat Strike Reported Easing

By the Canadian Press
A move by retail meat dealers to shut down their shops in protest against meat rationing restrictions appeared easing somewhat throughout Canada today.

In Montreal, focal point of Monday's demonstrations, some of the shops which drew their blinds Monday, reopened today. There still were plenty of butcher stores with locked doors, but there were few reports of gangs attempting to close stores which remained open.

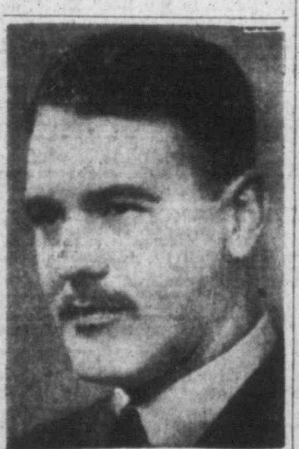

Some retail meat dealers who went on strike Monday kept their stores closed today in such places as Victoria and the Alberta municipalities of Edmonton, Lethbridge and Camrose, and in some smaller Nova Scotia towns. It is meatless Tuesday in all Canadian hotels and restaurants, and in those centres the majority of residents were joining in its observance because butchers had locked shop doors.

Montreal felt the main impact of the shop closings. There gangs of butchers roamed through the streets Monday, forcing fellow dealers to close stores. Not only the meat sections of chain stores, but entire establishments were closed.

More than 1,000 Montreal butchers at a meeting Monday night decided to continue their strike against the present system of meat rationing.

But from one quarter came an expression of disapproval. The Quebec provincial executive of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada said in a statement issued Monday night at Baguville, that it was convinced the protest strike in Montreal "is not, at this moment, the practical and constructive solution to this thorny question."

UNIQUE RECORD—Wing Cmdr. Frank Halton, a native of Toronto, Ont., is believed to have shot down the last German war plane before fighting ended in Europe. His parents moved to London, Ont., in 1937, and at that time he went to England and joined the R.A.F.

NAMED TO U.S. SUPREME COURT—Senator Harold H. Burton, above, Republican, of Ohio, has been nominated by President Truman to be an associate justice of the U.S. Supreme Court, succeeding Justice Owen J. Roberts who retired in July. The Senate will pass on the appointment.

50 Butcher Stores Join Strike On Vancouver Island

All members of the Vancouver Island Retail Meat Dealers' Association entered the second day of their strike here against meat rationing today. Nearly 50 butchers kept their shops closed.

"Our customers," said Arthur Wheeley, association secretary, "continue to tell us we're doing the right thing. The next move must come from Ottawa."

Mr. Wheeley said the association still had received no reply to the telegram sent Thursday to Hon. J. L. Isley in protest against meat rationing.

Still doing business as usual today were the meat departments in department stores, chain shops and two big independent dealers. They reported no increase in sales although they anticipated a rush toward the weekend when more coupons again become valid.

Contrary to expectations here, butchers of Nanaimo, Ladysmith and Port Alberni opened their stores Monday and continued selling meat again today. They have decided to withhold action until Oct. 1, when they have been promised a report from George R. Matthews, B.C. secretary of the Retail Merchants' Association, who is now in Ottawa.

Harold McVicker, spokesman for Nanaimo butchers, pointed out meat dealers there had guaranteed to support Victoria and Vancouver 100 per cent if they acted jointly.

"We were not committed to Victoria alone," he said. "We were also obligated to the Vancouver group."

Occupation of Japan May Last For Many Years, Says MacArthur

TOKYO (AP)—The occupation of Japan "might last many years," although with minimum occupation forces involved, Gen. MacArthur said through a headquarters spokesman today.

The statement denied that the Supreme Commander ever had stated that occupation forces could be withdrawn from Japan within six months. (Ted Dealey, president of the Dallas, Tex., Morning News, said Sept. 21 in a signed article that Gen. MacArthur had told him the occupation could end in six months "if we are not too ruthless and cruel.")

MINIMUM FORCES

Today's statement, issued by a headquarters spokesman, asserted that this was incorrect, and "what he said was that occupation forces, under favorable conditions, could be reduced to minimum size in six months."

Combat-clad U.S. veterans dashed ashore at Aomori today, broadening the Allied ground forces' occupation of Japan to the northernmost tip of Honshu. Gen. MacArthur, armed with a new directive from President Truman making it clear he is the highest authority in Japan, clamped his swiftly-tightening controls ever more rigidly on the political and economic life of conquered Japan.

Latest decrees forbade making arms, ammunition and aircraft; promised priorities necessary for production of food, clothing and houses; required careful reporting of virtually every large-scale financial transaction; unshackled the Japanese press and spurred democratic education.

Emperor Hirohito, who, well-informed Japanese say, will call on Gen. MacArthur in person, meanwhile offered no answer to questions asking the extent of his prior knowledge of Japanese militarists' war plans and his own role in the war's beginning.

Military authorities continued their round-up of suspected war criminals and reported today that Nobuyuki Abe, Japanese ex-Governor-General of Korea, has been permitted to remain under guard in his Tokyo home due to illness. He will be removed to jail upon recovery to await questioning or trial as one of the men on the Allies' "wanted" list.

U.B.C. to Expand To Enroll 6,400

VANCOUVER (CP)—University of B.C. board of governors Monday night approved plans for further expansion of the university to help take care of an estimated total of 6,400 students by January.

More than 5,200 students have already registered at U.B.C. and another 200 are expected within the next two weeks. A total of 1,000 more former service personnel will likely arrive by the new year.

No Alternative To Meat Rationing

VANCOUVER (CP)—Meat rationing is going to stay, because there is no alternative for it, Donald Gordon, national chairman of the Prices Board, said today in an interview in Vancouver.

"It's going to stay because this is a moral issue now," Mr. Gordon said. "Over in Britain and France and Belgium are millions who are suffering from malnutrition."

Russian Envoy
To U.S. Declares
For Franco's Removal

NEW YORK (AP) Nikolai Novikov, acting Soviet ambassador to the United States, is calling for the removal of Gen. Francisco Franco as head of the Spanish government and said he should be tried "as a war criminal."

Novikov, charge d'affaires of the Soviet embassy in Washington and acting ambassador in the absence of Andrei Gromyko, addressed 17,000 persons Monday night at a Madison Square Garden rally sponsored by the Spanish Republican government in exile.

The Russian representative said Franco, through actions against the Soviet Union, had "put himself on the same level with Hitler and Mussolini and, in the same measure as they, is subject to prosecution as a war criminal."

Prof. Harold J. Laski, chairman of the British Labor Party's executive committee, addressing the rally by radio from London, urged the democracies to withdraw their recognition of the Franco regime and recognize the Spanish government-in-exile, now functioning in Mexico.

City Contravenes Own Law
By Allowing Street Sales

In allowing the sale of peanuts or popcorn on Victoria's streets and issuing licenses to the vendors the City Council is contravening its own food laws, Ald. J. D. Hunter pointed out to council members at Monday's meeting.

The matter came up for discussion when the health committee, of which Ald. Hunter is chairman, reported that peanut and popcorn vendors had been asked not to sell their wares within three blocks of any city school because of complaints from South Park P.T.A. about the debris from wrappers and the fact that the children had to clean up the mess.

Ald. Hunter said that the by-law clearly stated that no foodstuffs should be sold on city streets, and City Solicitor A. J. Patton concurred that peanuts and popcorn could be classified as foodstuffs and their sale banned by street vendors under the by-law.

Ald. J. A. Worthington objected that the vendors could not be asked to move their stands as it would take their business away from them.

TAKE A.R.P. QUARTERS

The health department will take over Sunshine Inn on Pandora Avenue, which has been used for A.R.P. purposes during the war, and Dr. R. Felton, medical health officer, indicated that the entire city health department might move to the new location, Ald. Hunter told the council. When estimates were made up $2,000 was allotted to fixing up the health department quarters, but it is now thought that the A.R.P. building can be converted for health department purposes at a cost of $600 to $800.

The matter of United Nations clothing collection, which will take place Oct. 1 to 20 was referred to the Welfare Committee, and Ald. F. G. Mulliner, chairman, said he would contact other organizations already set up to handle the clothing collection and offer the co-operation of his committee.

The work of the Community Chest was commended by a council resolution.

Papers Just Found Show Nazis
Prepared Army to Invade Britain

By ROSS MUNRO
 BERLIN (CP) — Documents discovered here reveal that the Germans in the autumn of 1940 were preparing to strike at southern and southeastern England with 22 divisions and with 17 divisions in reserve, it was learned today.

Attack in that area of Britain would have involved Canadian troops within a day or so of the landing. The mystery surrounding German plans for invasion of Britain is gradually being unravelled and although no one here will say for certain that the final operation order has been uncovered, this appears to have been the general plan:

The initial attack was to be carried out by the 16th and 9th German Armies forming Army Group "A." The 16th Army was to sail from Ostend, Dunkerque, Calais, south of the Somme river, to land on the Kent coast between Margate and Hastings. The 9th was to leave Dieppe, Le Havre and Caen to make an assault on the British coast between Brighton and Portsmouth.

Airborne landings were planned north of the Romney marshes, which lie between Folkestone and Hastings, on the South Downs behind Brighton and on Beachy Head, east of Brighton.

2 ARMY GROUPS

After the landing of Army Group "A," Army Group "B," comprising an enlarged 6th Army, was to sail from Cherbourg to land west of Bournemouth in Weymouth Bay.

The landing forces of the two army groups was to comprise 11 infantry and two mountain divisions with a mobile force of six armored, two motorized and one S.S. division.

The army and the army group reserve set aside for the invasion totaled nine infantry divisions and eight additional infantry divisions available from the general headquarters reserve, the discovered documents reveal.

The Germans even had a great secret weapon—their six-barreled "nebelwerfer" mortar.

The invasion plan called for the two beachheads of army group A to link up and the first main objective was a line running northeast from Portsmouth toward Aldershot and Guildford, then eastward to Leatherhead, where Canadian headquarters were located, and on through

IN KENT, SUSSEX

The enemy planned to smash British and Canadian forces in the hedgerow country of Kent, Sussex and Surrey and the Germans then intended to drive ahead to their second objective—a line from Colchester on the east to the mouth of the Severn north of Bristol on the west.

It was hoped to cut off London and strong mobile forces would then break through to occupy the important coastal towns and industrial areas of the Midlands.

The code name for the invasion was to be "Sea Lion." These enemy documents disclose that the earliest top-secret warning order from German general headquarters to the 16th Army was sent out Aug. 17, 1940, but no D-Day was given in the warning. The order merely said the "date will be set later."

An invasion operation order prepared by Army Group A in September was also found.

During this threatening period of late August and September, Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton was commanding the composite British-Canadian 7th Corps, which was the southeast England anti-invasion force.

1ST DIVISION READY

A fully-equipped 1st Canadian Division stationed in the Catherham-Reigate area due north of Brighton was prepared to launch immediate counterattacks against any landing. The 2nd Canadian Division had just arrived from Canada and was at Aldershot. It would have been committed rapidly for action because defending forces were extremely thin throughout the area at that time.

If the Germans had launched their invasion it was likely they would have employed a force for the landings about the same in strength as the Allies used in Normandy on D-Day. The Nazis had 13 divisions earmarked for the actual landing operation, along with airborne forces totaling probably one and a half divisions. About nine divisions probably would have gone ashore the first day.

The Allies used nine divisions on D-Day—three airborne and six infantry.

For the first few days after the projected Nazi D-Day, the Germans would have hurried in about three more divisions—again similar to the plan carried out by the Allies four years later.

The reserve available to the Allies for long-range build-up in Normandy, however, was far superior to that planned by the Germans.

Mr. King Made No
Remarks On Quebec
Elections in Speech

OTTAWA (CP) — Prime Minister King said in an interview Monday night that in his speech at Fredericton, N.S., last Saturday honoring Premier Godbout on his 53rd birthday he had made no reference to provincial elections past or future.

There was nothing in his speech, he said, that could be interpreted as substantiating the report carried by the Canadian Press from Fredericton that Mr. King had said he believed the defeat of the provincial Liberals 15 months ago could be traced to "a lack of preparedness and a lack of concerted effort."

Mr. King also said there was nothing in his speech that could be a basis for the statement in the dispatch that "the Prime Minister, after saying Mr. Godbout was the man the federal Liberals wanted in Quebec, added that 'we will see to it that he is returned there in the next election.'"

"Never in my life," Mr. King said Monday night, "have I mixed in provincial elections. I not only made no references to

World Trade Union Congress in Paris

PARIS (Reuter) — Leon Jouhaux, France's veteran trade union leader, today called on unionists from 59 countries gathered here for the opening of the World Trade Union Congress, to make "unity and vigilance" their watchword in building the peace and in the economic reorganization of the world.

The congress, attended by representatives of 60,000,000 workers, is meeting in the vast Palais de Chaillot to discuss the formation of a new world organization to replace the old International Federation of Trade Unions.

Sir Walter Citrine, general secretary of the Trade Union Congress, and Ebbey Edwards, this year's Trade Union Congress chairman, are attending for Britain, Pat Conroy, secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Congress of Labor, for Canada.

Girl 22, Ex-Prisoner, Tells Court Of Beatings, Killings At Osweicim

LUENEBURG (Reuter) — Pretty 22-year-old Dora Szafran testified today she had seen Josef Kramer beat a woman severely with a stick when the woman fell out of line in a working party at the Osweicim concentration camp in Poland.

Kramer, "the Beast of Belsen" and 44 of his associates, went through the eighth day of their trial for murder and cruelty to prisoners at Osweicim and Belsen in Germany. He and a number of the 44 accused were identified Monday by witnesses, at the trials here as having ill-treated prisoners at both camps.

Miss Szafran told the court that Juana Bormann had set her Alsatian dog on women prisoners who had gone lame and could not keep up with the others.

"Bormann," she said, "boasted to another labor leader about setting the dog on to the internee. When the dog went for the woman's clothing, she rebuked it, and said 'at her throat' commanding it to choke her to death," Miss Szafran added.

POINTED TO HIS WORK

"As the woman died after the dog's attack, quite a crowd gathered around. Bormann then told the labor leader who came to see what it was all about, 'This is my work,' and pointed to the body."

In the dock the accused woman, Bormann, with wrinkled face and greying hair, listened intently, never taking her eyes from the face of the witness, except once, when she drew out her handkerchief and mopped her face and brow.

The wife of Josef Kramer arrived at Luenburg today, and it was learned she may give evidence on behalf of her husband. After hearing of his wife's arrival Kramer looked almost buoyant as he entered the dock.

Cross-examining Miss Szafran on her account of the beating which she alleged she saw, Maj. L. W. W. Cranfield, defending officer, asked if she had been with other witnesses for the prosecution while waiting to be called to give evidence.

When Miss Szafran admitted they were always together, Maj. Cranfield declared: "I suggest to you that the additions to your affidavit which you have made are the result of discussions between you and the other female witnesses."

"It is untrue," said Miss Szafran.

50 SHOT ON LAST DAY

Describing the alleged shooting of 50 people outside the Belsen cookhouse on the day of liberation by British troops, Miss Szafran said: "When I asked one man why he was shooting he said: 'Do you think that when the English people come here you will be better off?'"

"I put it to you," said Maj. Cranfield, "that this incident only occurred in your imagination and that the whole incident is a tissue of lies?"

"Perhaps the report was not made correctly," said Miss Szafran, "but I swear the whole thing really took place."

At the conclusion of her cross-examination, the witness was asked by Col. T. M. Backhouse, prosecuting, to tell the court more about the conduct of Irma Grese, a woman S.S. guard.

"When a selection parade for the gas chamber was in progress one day at Auschwitz, two girls jumped out of a window," Miss Szafran said. "Grese, who was near the building, approached them as they lay on the ground and shot them twice."

Boy of 5 Shoots, Kills His Mother

CHAPLEAU, Ont. (CP) — Shot accidentally by her five-year-old son, Mrs. Rose Lalonde, 38, of Sultan, Ont., was fatally injured Sunday.

Mrs. Lalonde had attended the Catholic Church, leaving her two children, five-year-old Wilfred and 12-year-old Richard, in the house. During her absence the boys went to a neighbor's home and borrowed a .22 rifle. They were playing with the rifle in the back yard when Mrs. Lalonde returned.

Mrs. Lalonde entered the house with the older boy, who had placed the rifle at the kitchen door. The younger boy picked up the rifle and aimed it at his mother.

The gun discharged, the bullet striking Mrs. Lalonde in the heart. She died almost instantly.

Agriculture, Finance Ministers Justify Canada's Meat Policy

OTTAWA (CP) — With Agriculture Minister Gardiner stressing the production side and Finance Minister Isley reviewing statistics, the government Monday swung its front bench members into the Throne Speech debate on the question of meat rationing.

Arguments as put forward by the two ministers were:

1. That from both humanitarian and economic considerations Canada should assist in feeding Europe.
2. That the present meat supply does not permit increased shipments without rationing to reduce home consumption.
3. That meat production can not be increased at the farm level because there is not enough grain to feed more livestock.

CONSEQUENCES OF WAR

Although the war is over as far as the shooting goes, Canada should not become a "quitter nation" and refuse to shoulder her share of the consequences of war, said Mr. Isley while outlining the reasons for re-introduction of meat rationing.

After saying Canada has undertaken to export 310,000,000 pounds of meat in the last four months of this year, he said

Canada should see the job through to the end. That job would not be finished so long as there was hunger and starvation in Europe.

Mr. Gardiner, replying to opposition criticism that if rationing was necessary government policies which permitted a decline in hog production were to blame, said Canada's 1945 hog output, down from 1944, was the peak of which Canada was capable under normal conditions.

The high 1944 production was made possible by the huge crop of oats and barley produced in 1942. This created a surplus which made possible not only peak Canadian production but high production in the United States.

TWO MONTHS' SUPPLY

Now, however, the situation was that at the start of the 1945-46 crop year there was a carry-over of only two months' feed supply and the smallest crop of coarse grains in western Canada since 1937.

William Irvine, C.C.F. Cariboo, one of the old-timers who returned to Parliament this year after an absence of 10 years, entered a special plea for construction of a Peace River outlet to the Pacific coast. He said it had been promised for years by leaders of all parties.

4 ACTS ATTACKED

Prior to resumption of the Throne Speech debate, Justice Minister St. Laurent said he had received petitions from the Dominion Loan and Mortgage Board, the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Hudson's Bay Company asking for disallowance of four acts passed by the Saskatchewan C.C.F. government within the last year.

The acts were the Farm Security Act, the Mineral Taxation Act of 1944, and its amending act of 1945, and the Local Government Board Special Act. Oral representations of the loan and mortgage firm would be heard Oct. 11 and those of the C.P.R. Oct. 15. The Hudson's Bay Company had not asked to make oral representations.

Roland Beaudry, Lib. Montreal-St. James, called for a greater understanding and co-operation between races, a greater tolerance of other people's points of view, and an understanding that in matters of language and of religious tolerance numbers do not necessarily imply rights.

Anthony Hlynka, S.C. Vegreville, Alta., asked that the Canadian Government urge Britain and the United States not to force displaced persons in Europe to return to the Russian sphere of occupation. He said many persons were committing suicide rather than return to their countries under Russian occupation.

Harry Jackman, Toronto-Rose-dale, called for restoration of the initiative to private enterprise. The present taxation laws had taken away that initiative and had discouraged business men from investing in projects that would provide employment.

Mr. Irving expressed the hope that the government was serious in its declared policy of bringing about a new order and social justice. At present, social justice consisted of a few private corporations operating all the mines, oilfields, railways and other large concerns in the country for profit while many people were in want.

E. G. McCullough, C.C.F. Assiniboia, said Monday night in the Commons it was "disgraceful" the way the "government had allowed the liquor interests to undermine the morale of our people."

Canada would pay for this in the future in poor citizenship and possibly in crime.

"The time has come to do away with corruption in high places," he said.

The government placed its faith on free enterprise but was itself underwriting all the risks of free enterprise through the industrial development bank, the housing scheme and family allowances. It looked as if the government proposed to allow big business to exploit the people through "taking the profits of industry while the government with the taxpayers' money looked after the children."

'RATIONING IS NECESSARY'

IT SEEMS TO US THAT THE WHOLE controversy about the rationing of meat boils down to a battle between those in authority who have all the information on which they have formulated policy and those who strenuously object to any interference with the even tenor of their ways. In the House of Commons yesterday afternoon, Finance Minister Isley reviewed statistics, explained shortages, and generally made out his case in support of the action the government has taken. Minister of Agriculture Gardiner likewise dealt with the problem from the point of view of production—an approach complementary to that of his cabinet colleague.

Mr. Isley pointed out, incidentally, that his material was not especially new, but that it had not been possible to collect it for presentation earlier in one statement. Progressive Conservative leader John Bracken, having noted the vociferous denunciation of rationing by one or two anti-King newspapers, said the "public had waited a long time" for the information; but "I'm sure they will read it with a great deal of interest." This would seem to be an excellent reply to one commentator's categorical, if somewhat nebulous, warning that "the public has just as firm a jaw (as Mr. Donald Gordon, Chairman of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board) and once it sets it will hold to that course for a considerable time." But, if only for the sake of appearance, we hope the intelligent citizens of this community will not hang on to such an uncomfortable facial distortion indefinitely. Strangely enough, however, the consumer has remained the least vocal of all the participants in this discussion of a temporary inconvenience. And does anyone seriously believe that the peace will be won without inconveniences much more irksome than meat rationing?

Judged by their reception of the statements in the House of Commons, Mr. Bracken, the C.C.F. leader, and the chief of the Social Credit opposition are fairly well satisfied. Said Mr. Coldwell of the Finance Minister's explanation: "Mr. Isley's statement is a very clear indication that meat rationing is necessary and we shall support it." Mr. Low was personally of the opinion that Canada should give all possible aid to the rehabilitation of the peoples of Europe; his only doubt was whether all the alternatives to the present system had been fully explored. As to the local situation, if some of the retailers, in the light of the foregoing views, prefer to resist the rationing policy, that is their own business. But perhaps the angle of the public jaw, sooner or later, will set more firmly against such an attitude than in hostility to governmental policy designed to serve a great humanitarian principle.

INTERESTING, NOT ORIGINAL

MUCH PROMINENCE HAS BEEN GIVEN to an article which the Ottawa Citizen published last Saturday under the name of its own commentator. Its main point is described in a dispatch from the capital as "an interesting suggestion that Vancouver Island might be the home of the United Nations World Security Organization." The writer supports his argument with the categorical statement that, "aside from its equable climate," there are "many strong reasons for the selection." So be it; but we are compelled to disillusion our Ottawa contemporary and tell its commentator that his idea is not original—not by a long shot.

In these columns on Oct. 30, 1944, we suggested that "before the world is much older the United Nations will have to decide where they propose to set up their permanent security organization," and proceeded with our argument in Canada's favor as a suitable part of the world for such an establishment, including the following:

"What a magnificent site a spot on the Malahat, for example, would provide for a Peace Palace! From that scenic vantage point its transient occupants and its permanent secretariat would be constantly reminded of the symbolism of international accord—the invisible line of demarcation between Canada and the United States. And what projected locale for such an establishment purposes one which is not only incomparably endowed climatically, but is also possessed of such important strategic advantages? From the standpoint of proximity to Asia and the vast Pacific area, moreover, Vancouver Island is, to all intents and purposes, the central point of the United Nations—for western Europe, the Soviet Union, the southern Dominions of the British Commonwealth, and Central and South America. In contrast with Geneva and other cities of the Old and New World, therefore, this part of Canada is the ideal, most impressive, and most fitting birthplace for a lasting peace."

Last April 12, we repeated the arguments in view of the fact that Washington observers, two weeks before the opening of the San Francisco Conference, were discussing the very subject of a site for the new World Security Organization. While the delegates to the UNO did not get around to it, we suggested at that time the following reasons why this Dominion should have something to say about an alternative to Geneva:

1. That the Western Hemisphere has never threatened world peace.
2. That it is equally accessible from Europe and Asia.
3. That it is far enough away to provide a calm atmosphere for consideration of Europe's political turmoil.

On still another occasion, last Aug. 23, to be precise, we returned to the subject to object to Geneva and to point out that "primarily there are the material objections of Switzerland's failure to establish diplomatic relations with Russia and the fact that, as a neutral, she is not yet a member of the United Nations." To this we added:

"Probably more effective than those considerations, however, is the psychological aura of failure arising from the frustration of those hopes for peace which died in the old League's home. The events of the years immediately preceding the Second World War, in effect, made the white marble palace little more than a gaudy sepulchre for pious aspirations."

Fully conversant with the whole Canadian scene as our able and essentially liberal-minded Ottawa contemporary so obviously is—knowing, too, a good deal about the old politico-economic East-West controversy—it will permit us to claim some credit for launching the idea that Vancouver Island is entitled to consideration as a home for the World Peace Organization. Island Chambers of Commerce and Boards of Trade, nevertheless, doubtless will recognize the friendly gesture which comes from the leading newspaper in the national capital.

SERVICES RENDERED

WHATEVER GENERAL POLICIES ARE established for trading between Britain and the United States, whatever arrangements are recommended for exchange between dollar and sterling, the fact that they have to be accepted by Congress is one of the main difficulties confronting the British and American experts in their efforts to substitute a practical form of co-operation for Lend-Lease. Congress is naturally anxious regarding the reaction on its constituents of any policy which savors of allowing the British to "get away" with the best of the bargain or, as it has been crudely expressed by those whose primary objective is to accentuate the points of difference rather than the necessity for agreement, to "make suckers out of the Americans." All that these exponents of British "perfidy" need do is to harp on the dollar in order to play up to the fallacies of the faithful concerning money—instead of pounding home the truth that trade is in goods and not money.

Some Congressmen concentrate on the American standard of living, on employment, on the national debt, on taxation, as being vitally affected by the nonpayment of debts after the 1914-18 war, and as being obviously endangered by any further reliance on debts being paid after this war. They avoid the truth that the debts are in goods and not in money and that the valuation placed on these goods in the United States, on the dollar basis, has been vastly inflated by the war, whereas in Europe all currencies have been destroyed except for those related to the sterling block which have been terribly depreciated by destruction. If the pound sterling is valued at $3 as compared to the dollar at $4.50, Britain has to pay $4.50 for every pound's worth of goods bought in the United States and can only get $3 in the market for these goods in Britain or within the sterling block. Thus, on every million pounds' worth of trade Britain would lose a million and a half dollars. Trade is impossible on such a basis. So what the experts are trying to do is to make out a balance sheet of the "trade" during the war under Lend-Lease—which bears a fair relation to the actual facts, and to make these facts plain to the American people who are looking at the inflation valuation in terms of money, ignoring the actualities of the goods and the services performed in exchange.

The moment that the "services" performed are brought into the picture there is liable to be the stigma of "charity." But the "services rendered" are precisely those that are ordinarily rendered in the exchange of trade; they were a very real export of Britain during the war. Yet the moment the mercantile value of "insurance" is taken into account these "services rendered" were incalculable, because they proved to be the risk value Britain took in standing up to Hitler—while not only the United States but Russia and the rest of the world had time to organize for victory. And loans are made to facilitate the exchange of goods not to transfer money. The difficulty of closing the Lend-Lease account and opening a new trading account, therefore, is not economic but political.

THE COUNTER-WEAPON

PEACE-LOVING PEOPLES WILL HOPE that the occasion will never arise to test in actual combat the new counter-weapons designed to meet the atomic bomb. That such devices are in advanced stages of development by British and United States scientists is encouraging in view of the fact that authorities have acknowledged the impossibility of keeping the atomic secret indefinitely. When the methods of producing the tremendous destructive power are more generally shared, it will be comforting to know that those who brought forth the most astounding bomb of all time have some means of defence. But it is questionable if the latter development will provide complete immunization against it. The atomic bomb will still remain a frightening actuality, the potential means of eliminating what has been called civilization.

The more enlightened sections of the world must depend on something better than a mechanical device to shield nations from destruction. They must still work toward the achievement of an understanding to remove the causes which might bring the atomic bomb into use again. Science, which put the most potent weapon in history in the hands of the United Nations, cannot, by itself, provide the remedy. That can be furnished only by adherence to a higher ethical standard than the world has achieved to date.

Walter Lippmann

THE FULL EMPLOYMENT BILL

IN ONE IMPORTANT respect the Murray Full Employment Bill will have to be amended before it can be supported with candor and conviction. It says that "all Americans able to work and seeking work have the right to useful, remunerative regular and full-time employment, and that it is the policy of the United States 'to assure . . . at all times . . . opportunities to enable all Americans who have finished their schooling and who do not have full-time housekeeping responsibilities freely to exercise this right.'"

If these words are to be taken seriously, they raise expectations which the bill itself is not designed to satisfy. If they are meant to be read loosely as political rhetoric, they do not belong in the most important domestic measure of the postwar period. Incidentally, the sentence as written is so carelessly and excitedly phrased that, read literally, it guarantees women who have to stay home part of the day to keep house a full-time job away from home.

THOUGH THIS is no doubt a little slip of the pen, the whole statement is a big slip of the pen. It is derived from the celebrated passage in President Roosevelt's message of Jan. 11, 1944, where he said that "we have accepted so to speak a second bill of rights," and it purports to establish as one item of a new legal bill of rights what Mr. Roosevelt described as "so to speak" a bill of rights.

Now there is a great difference between a legal bill of rights and a "so to speak" bill of rights. The difference, as Mr. Merlo Pusey pointed out so cogently recently in The Washington Post, is that under a real bill of rights a citizen who is denied his rights may carry his case to the courts. But "if a man is out of a job, can he go to court and force the government to provide him with one?" The answer, of course, is no. Under the Murray bill he will not be able to do this, and it is, therefore, not good faith to write into the law that all Americans "have a right" which no individual American has any legal means of enforcing.

WHAT MR. ROOSEVELT meant to say, what Mr. Truman meant when he adopted the formula, what the rest of the Murray bill is designed for, is to make the maintenance of full employment an objective of national policy. But it is one thing to commit the federal government to a policy which it must try to carry out. It is quite a different thing to make it a matter of right, which all Americans "have," that this policy shall provide each one of them, if he wants it, with a job which is "useful, remunerative, regular and full-time." If this were a genuine right in a genuine bill of rights, every American would have the right to start a lawsuit to determine whether there is a job open for him which is useful, remunerative, etc., etc.

Obviously, the authors of the bill do not mean that. Nor do they mean to put Congress and the executive branch in a position where individuals or groups can hold them accountable "at all times" for providing opportunities that are jobs—"freely to exercise this right" to useful, remunerative, etc., etc. The true intent of the Murray bill is to see to it that in the nation as a whole, not necessarily in each community nor in each kind of employment, the conditions are such that the demand for goods and services will be sufficient to prevent any prolonged involuntary mass unemployment.

FROM A READING of Senator Taft's amendments, it is clear enough that though he is more than half converted to the purposes of the bill, he does not as yet believe in its basic doctrine. His objections can be debated when a perfected bill is reported out of the committee. But on the point which I have been discussing, he has offered an amendment which the committee ought to accept because it removes the worst defect of the bill.

Mr. Taft wishes to strike out the dangerously ambiguous statement about "the right" of all Americans at all times, and he would substitute for it the declaration that "it is the policy of the United States to see that there is afforded to all Americans able and willing to work the opportunity to obtain useful, remunerative, regular and full-time employment if they desire it." This is a much more accurate and sincere statement of the true intent and genuine possibilities of the bill. No one who has grasped its basic principles, and has realized how much we shall have to learn before we can hope to carry out the policy successfully, will wish to encumber the bill with big, loose promises that can lead only to disappointments and disputes.

THIS TIME?

From the Halifax Herald

Allied actions and declared intentions in relation to war criminals are significant as viewed against the background of a quarter of a century ago.

Take the case of the Kaiser of 1914-18, who escaped into Holland when Germany collapsed. This is how the Kaiser was "hanged":

"The Treaty of Peace declared the ex-Kaiser a criminal, and arrangements were made for his trial in London. On Jan. 16, 1920, his extradition was formally demanded, but it was refused by the Dutch government, and he continued to live in Holland."

The whole "show" was a farce. As were the "trials" of the few German war criminals who were brought to the Bar.

It may confidently be asserted that it is going to be different this time.

Don't worry. By the time any situation is bad enough to make a magazine article, officials are setting it right.

Emperor Hirohito's hold on his 2,600-year-old throne is tenuous, and while he is doing all he can to maintain his position, it won't be surprising to see him abdicate in due course, either of his own volition or because of pressure.

The report from usually well-informed Japanese sources in Tokyo that the Mikado is preparing to present himself at the United States Embassy for an audience with Supreme Commander MacArthur is as significant as it is sensational. Such a thing is unprecedented, and if the imperial descendant of the Sun Goddess can thus walk among mortals and do homage to his conquerors without losing face with the Japanese people—then he is a wizard.

There are a considerable number of Japanese anti-monarchists who have been waiting for an opportunity to execute a revolutionary coup and oust the emperor. From time to time they have raised their voices against him, but as often they have been roughly dealt with by the police.

The United States attitude towards political change is clearly defined for Gen. MacArthur in the statement on initial postwar policy in Japan, issued by the White House in Washington Saturday. This says:

"The policy is to use the existing form of government in Japan, not to support it. Changes in the form of government initiated by the Japanese people or government in the direction of modifying its feudal and authoritarian tendencies are to be permitted and favored. In the event that the effectuation of such changes involves the use of force by the Japanese people or government against persons opposed thereto, the Supreme Commander should intervene only where necessary to insure the security of his forces and the attainment of all other objectives of the occupation."

The Long Road Back

During the war years the growth of the telephone systems of North America was restricted by Government order so that materials, labor and manufacturing facilities could be diverted to war purposes. This policy contributed greatly to the war effort but naturally resulted in thousands of people being unable to get telephone service. At the time of writing, there are over two million names on the waiting lists for telephone service in North America.

Now the factories are changing back to peacetime production, and the huge job of catching up with telephone demands has begun. The products of the factories are being apportioned among the telephone systems of the continent. We are getting our share of telephones, wire, cables, switchboards, automatic equipment, and so forth, but it will be many months before factory deliveries enable us to make telephone installations on a normal basis.

Dorothy Watson Bride Of Cpl. J. Dallimore

Dorothy, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Watson, 1351 Harrison Street, became the bride, Monday evening, in St. Barnabas' Church, of Cpl. Jack Dallimore, R.C.A.F., youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dallimore, 207 Dundas Street. Rev. E. Munn performed the ceremony, and Mr. Dallimore, father of the groom, played the wedding music. During the signing of the register Miss Jean Boughey sang "O Perfect Love."

The bride was given away by her father, and wore a gown of emerald white organza, the gathered bodice fashioned with sweetheart neckline and lily-point sleeves, and the full skirt was floor length. Her shoulder-length veil was caught to a Mary Stuart headdress trimmed with orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of pink roses, violets and mauve heather. Her only jewelry was a gold locket, the groom's gift.

Miss Elsie Watson was maid of honor, wearing a gown of yellow sheer with a headdress of mauve flowers and net. Bridesmaids were Misses Marguerite Watson and Kathleen Stewart both frocked in yellow sheer with headdresses of yellow flowers and net. All carried contrasting bouquets of chrysanthemums. Sgt. Lewis Dallimore, R.C.A.C., was groomsmen, and ushering were Cpl. Verne Warren and Cpl. Graham Park, both of the R.C.A.F.

A reception was held at MacDonald Hall, mothers of the couple receiving many guests. Toast to the bride was proposed by Thomas Scott.

Leaving for a honeymoon on the mainland and up-island, the bride wore a gold wool dress-maker suit with brown accessories and a corsage bouquet of gardenias. Cpl. and Mrs. Dallimore will reside in Victoria.

Esquimalt C.C.Fers' election funds urgently needed, send to Chas. Jones, 481 Fraser Street, or E. W. Bomford, Shawnigan Lake.

Celebrates 89th Birthday

Mrs. William Buxton, with her great-granddaughter, Judith Margaret on her knee. Her son, William Buxton, sits beside her and her grandson, Reg. William Buxton of Edmonton is at her shoulder.

Mrs. Margaret Buxton, 3447 Douglas Street, who celebrates her 89th birthday today, was married in 1878 in Matlock, Eng. Air Crew Reserve Finally Released

OTTAWA (CP) — Eleven thousand members of the R.C.A.F., transferred from active service to the air force's trained aircrew reserve, when the defeat of Germany lessened aircrew requirements, are now finally released from the service, Air Minister Gibson announced Monday night.

Even though their full documentation was completed when they were transferred to the trained aircrew reserve, they were not at that time finally released. Mr. Gibson said, however, that now with announcement of their release from service, no action by the individual is necessary to assure his status.

The successful conclusion of the war had made it unnecessary for the air force to keep these men available, Mr. Gibson said. Now their status was exactly "equivalent to that of a member of the R.C.A.F. who had gone through the normal channels and been finally discharged. All former personnel of the trained aircrew reserve, as well as all other members of the reserve, will shortly be given the opportunity of "re-engaging if they so desire, for continuing service during the transition period until September 30, 1947," the statement said.

"Seaweed"—dulse, Irish moss, kelp—is used in the manufacture of insulating and upholstering material.

SELFISH MEN UNDESIRABLE

Dear Miss Dix: He is 32. I am 22. And we have been going out together. He has never told me that he loved me but whenever I decide to stay at home of an evening he calls up to find out whether I am really in, or whether I have lied to him. Whenever I attend a club meeting he is there watching me, or trying to find out who I am with. Whenever I make another date he becomes very angry. He doesn't want me to have girl friends.

I have tried to figure him out and I can't do it. Can you?

BEWILDERED.

Answer: Certainly. You don't have to be a Quiz Kid to get his number. He is a dog in the manger. He doesn't want you himself, but he is trying to keep any other man from getting you.

CONTENTIBLE TYPE

Personally, I don't think there is any more contemptible heel than that type of man, because he so ruthlessly sacrifices a girl to his vanity. He knows that when a girl is young and pretty and vivacious and full of the joy of living she is more attractive to men and most likely to make a good marriage. He also knows that he can drive all other men away and doom her to old-maidhood by monopolizing her time and attention and leading everyone to believe that they are engaged.

Worse still, he can break the girl's heart by winning her love by acting like a lover, though he never says a word that really commits him to anything. Many a girl has her life spoiled by just waiting and waiting and awaiting for the proposal that never comes.

This man has shown you how utterly selfish and ruthless he is and how little he considers your interest or happiness. If you have a grain of good, hard, horse sense or any self-respect you will show him the door. The dog in the manger isn't a good house-hold pet.

Fire Chief Alex. Munroe Retires After 36 Years

The retirement of Fire Chief Alex. Munroe and the appointment of Senior Deputy Chief Joseph A. Raymond to fill his position was announced at Monday's city council meeting. Fire Chief Munroe has been with the city fire department for 36 years, Ald. H. M. Diggon, chairman of the fire wardens, told council members, and he is J. RAYMOND being retired at his own request.

... retiring chief.

On the recommendation of the fire wardens he will be officially retired Sept. 30, but re-employed until the end of the year at his former salary, being given leave of absence for October, November and December.

Chief Raymond will take over his new duties Oct. 1 and Sr. Capt. R. T. Brindle will be moved up to the position of senior deputy chief at the same time.

Ald. Diggon paid high tribute to the fine work done by Chief Munroe during his years with the fire department, and criticized the policy which made retirement compulsory for him at the age of 60. Ald. Diggon felt that the executive heads should be allowed to remain in their position until 65 at least.

He pointed out that the new fire chief would only be in his position two years before he will be forced to retire, and recommended that in future no appointment of this kind be given to a man over 50, so that at least 10 full years' service in the position would be guaranteed.

Esquimalt C.C. election funds urgently needed, send to Chas. Jones, 481 Fraser Street, or E. W. Bomford, Shawnigan Lake.

Collections to Cease In Saanich Schools Now War Is Over

A financial report showing Saanich school finances to be in sound condition, and stating that teachers had been supplied with explanations of the new salary schedules now in operation, was made by Trustee A. Edmonds at Saanich School Board meeting last night.

The school board decided to prohibit the raising of funds through the schools, either through collections by teachers or selling of tickets or subscriptions by pupils, now that the war is over. Tribute was paid to the generous response of teachers and pupils in the raising of funds for the war effort.

A scheme under which Saturday morning radio programs will be planned and broadcast by high school students of Greater Victoria was endorsed. Under this scheme about 20 students a week will gain an insight into radio broadcasting.

PLAN ADDITION
Possibility of relieving congestion at Mount View High School by transferring the Grade 8 class to a neighboring hall was investigated, the Saanich school inspector, John Gough, reported, but it was decided to leave the class at all efforts on plans for immediate erection of an addition at Tolmie School so that a class might be placed there.

Greatest congestion at the reopening of Saanich schools occurred at Tolmie and McKenzie Avenue schools, Mr. Gough reported. Figures received from all schools at the end of the first week of school showed a total enrollment of 2,759 pupils, an increase of 118 over the total for September, 1944.

Cowichan Tories Ask Davey to Resign Nanaimo Presidency

A notice of dissociation from the movement of Maj. L. H. MacQueen to run as an Independent Progressive Conservative candidate in Saanich in the Oct. 25 provincial general election and a request that his campaign manager, Frank Davey, resign from his post as president of the Nanaimo Federal Progressive Conservative Association have been forwarded to Mr. Davey by the Cowichan-Newcastle Progressive Conservative Association.

The Cowichan-Newcastle Progressive Conservative Association is one of the five Progressive Conservative groups which are members of the federal riding organization.

The action was taken, according to the letter to Mr. Davey, "inasmuch as the Cowichan-Newcastle Progressive Conservative Association was one of the first to support a continuation of the Coalition government and is at present entirely supporting the candidacy of Macgregor-Macintosh, the Coalition candidate."

"The officers of the Cowichan-Newcastle Progressive Conservative Association wish to go on record as entirely dissociating themselves from your action in supporting an Independent Conservative candidate in Saanich and suggest that for the good of all concerned and particularly so that the public may not be confused, you resign from the presidency of the Nanaimo Federal Progressive Conservative Association."

The letter was forwarded to Mr. Davey Monday over the signature of C. R. West.

Victoria to Send Delegate to Ottawa

The matter of including a delegate from Victoria City Council in the 25-man delegation which will be leaving Vancouver for Ottawa Thursday to consult with the federal authorities on the matter of the labor-veteran re-conversion committee's six-point program was left in the hands of Mayor Percy George at Monday's council meeting, and today he appointed Ald. B. J. Gadsden.

The business, trade, re-establishment and intermunicipal committee, under the chairmanship of Ald. B. J. Gadsden, recommended that Victoria send a delegate if Vancouver, New Westminster and the Provincial Government also sent delegates. However Ald. F. A. Willis pointed out that if Vancouver and the Provincial Government sent delegates Victoria should be represented also, regardless of what New Westminster did, and he

5 Coalition Candidates Stated For Nominations Here Tonight

PREMIER JOHN HART

MRS. NANCY HODGES

W. T. STRAITH, K.C.

NORMAN WHITTAKER, K.C.

Stated for nomination at joint Liberal and Progressive Conservative conventions tonight are five members of the 20th Legislature.

At the joint convention to be held at 8 in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium, 100 delegates, 50 from each association, will name three candidates to contest the three Victoria constituencies in the Oct. 25 provincial general election.

It is expected the convention will name three Liberals, members of the last Legislature. They are Premier John Hart who was first elected to the B.C. Legislature in 1916 and who besides holding the premiership and finance portfolio at the present has served as Minister of Finance in former Liberal Governments and Minister of Industries.

Mrs. Nancy Hodges, Liberal, newspaper columnist, who sat in the B.C. Legislature Assembly for the first time in 1941.

W. T. Straith, K.C., first elected on the Liberal ticket in the 1937 provincial general election and returned in 1941. He is a former Victoria alderman.

In Saanich the Coalition nomination is expected to be won by Norman Whittaker, K.C., speaker of the 20th Legislature, Liberal member for Saanich since 1933. The convention will be held at 8 at Royal Oak Hall.

Sqdn. Ldr. E. V. Finland, now posted for discharge from the R.C.A.F., is listed for the Esquimalt Coalition nomination. A barrister and solicitor, he served with the R.F.C. and R.A.F. during the first World War and was first elected as Conservative thought the matter should be left to the mayor's discretion.

The proposed delegation, which will leave by special railway car from Vancouver Thursday, will be made up of six A.F. of L. and six C.C. of L. representatives from Vancouver; one A.F. of L. and one C.C. of L. representative from Victoria; three veterans, three municipal representatives, one each from New Westminster, Victoria and Vancouver; two men from the Vancouver Board of Trade, two ministers, one from Victoria and one from Vancouver, and one Provincial Government representative.

Ald. H. M. Diggon protested that he did not think Victoria's representative should support the six-point program, which includes such items as severance pay, 40-hour week, subsidized shipbuilding for the west coast, the delegation to Ottawa, and a federal-provincial conference.

Ald. Gadsden said that the Vancouver council had endorsed the program in principle. The Union of B.C. Municipalities at its recent meeting in Qualicum also endorsed the program in principle.

Ald. Diggon proposed that the delegate should be instructed to support R. W. Mayhew, M.P. for Victoria, in his efforts for the shipbuilding industry here, and to obtain improvements of the harbor.

9 IN VICTORIA

The nominations tonight will bring to nine the total number of candidates contesting the three Victoria seats in the Legislature. Already named are FO. Murray Bryce, F. Bevis and Mrs. May Campbell, C.C.F. nominees; R. Kerr, L.P.P. nominee; Maj. A. H. Jukes, Social Credit standard bearer, and Mrs. Ellen Hart, Independent Progressive Conservative candidate.

The Coalition nomination tonight will assure a four-way contest in Saanich where Martin Neilson has been named C.C.F. candidate, W. White, L.P.P. nominee, and L. H. MacQueen, Independent Progressive Conservative candidate.

In Esquimalt Harry Webber, C.C.F., is the only other candidate already nominated.

Discuss Occupancy Of Wartime Houses

Procedure in granting occupancy of the 150 wartime houses being built in Victoria for veterans will be discussed by the housing committee under the chairmanship of Ald. T. W. Hawkins, it was decided at Monday's City Council meeting.

N. F. Broddy, local representative of Wartime Housing, in a letter to Mayor Percy George, raised the question and asked what the council wished to do about the matter.

He suggested that first priority for the houses could be given to Victoria men returning from overseas service, with priority being given in direct proportion to the length of service overseas.

Second priority could be given to servicemen from the area whose husbands might not have been former residents, and third to servicemen returning from overseas whose wives had lived in the area previously although they had not.

Mr. Broddy raised the question as to whether men with longer service than men in the last two categories, although not from the area, might not feel they should be entitled to some priority with regard to the houses. However, he left the matter entirely up to the council and asked them what procedure they wished followed.

By BILL BISHOP,
Head Coach, Victoria American Football Team

CANADIAN football, that is the modern streamlined version, played under western rules, was first introduced to Victoria by George Deacon and Jim Smith in the late summer of 1939. Although war clouds were even then gathering in Europe, these men decided the game should be started and so Victoria's entry into the intercity Big Four league, the Revellers, came into being. The first year, using almost totally inexperienced players, the Revellers were runners-up in the B.C. finals being beaten by Varsity for the championship. The next year proved more satisfactory and although most of the players were fast going into the Armed Forces, the team managed to hold together long enough to take the B.C. championship and the Sir Thomas Lipton trophy. This trophy, we might add, still reposes in full view in one of the local restaurants, waiting for the day when it can once more be brought out and played for.

IN 1940 Canadian football was last played in closed parks and from then on the game was carried by the juniors and boys of high school age. Jim Smith never gave up the battle to keep the game going and in this he was ably assisted by Brother Reilly, late of St. Louis College. Reilly has since been transferred to Chicago but his efforts to keep this sport alive during the war years will never be forgotten. Most of the games were played at Central Park and at times both players, equipment, and spectators, were scarce. Then in an effort to give more players a chance to participate in the game, six-man football, played under American rules, was introduced. This type of game with its more open type of play proved a wise move as it gave spectators and players a chance to watch and participate in a faster breaking contest.

THEN, in the fall of 1944, it was felt that Victoria could once more support Canadian or American football and so arrangements were made to bring a high school team up from Blaine and one from Vancouver College. The Victoria team would be drawn from the High Schools and from St. Louis and Victoria Colleges. Brother Reilly was appointed head coach and Smith was to handle the line coaching. A hard-working executive under the leadership of Dave Kenny was whipped into shape and the wheels were put in motion with the idea that if these games proved a success, Victoria would next year embark on a full-scale schedule with American teams. The first game with Blaine proved to be a distinct success and saw upwards of 1,500 spectators. The local boys, making their first appearance under the American rules, held a powerful Blaine team to a 13 to 6 score. The following week Vancouver College made a visit under adverse weather conditions, to say the least. The final score eludes me at the moment but it was definitely in favor of Vancouver. However, it was felt that the support given these two games by the people of Victoria, proved that the sport was taking hold and so a full schedule was drawn up for 1945, with teams below the border and from Vancouver.

SO NOW Victoria's present entry, the Mustangs, playing under the American code is launched on its schedule. The members of the team are drawn from among the youths of this city who are of high school age and these boys have been putting in many arduous hours in their pre-season workouts. The coaching staff is composed of Harry Barber, Revellers' star quarterback, as backfield coach; Smith as line coach and Bill Bishop, head coach. Kenny is again president of a hard working and generally unsung executive and all that can be done to make this year a successful one, is being done. New equipment had to be purchased, and this included sweaters, shoulder pads, helmets, pants, kidney pads, shoes, and the few other items that go to make this sport one of the most expensive to promote.

WHEN the idea of international competition was first launched last spring, it looked like a very ambitious undertaking, indeed, and since then nothing has come along to detract from this idea. There will be a total of eight and possibly nine games played in Victoria this fall and each one of the Mustangs' competitors will be an outside team. This means a tremendous amount of pre-game organization by the executive and hours of hard tough training for the players; yet it is only by the combined efforts of all that this program can become a success. Victoria's business firms and private individuals have once again risen to the occasion and given generously of their resources in order to ensure the success of this venture in its first year. With a good break in the weather conditions, it should not be necessary to appeal again as the game will be able to carry itself after the first season.

PERHAPS when this year is over and the venture has turned out a success, there will be a few who feel that we should confine ourselves to this type of competition and not try to be too ambitious—at least for two or three seasons. But today Victoria is seeing hundreds of young men returning from overseas who are more anxious to engage in active sports than ever before. Each sport will, in some measure, reap the benefit of this desire. In all likelihood, next fall will see Victoria's entry return to the Big Four league and active competition with Vancouver teams. Negotiations are under way to have a certain amount of games with American senior teams and it is this class of competition that enabled the Blue Bombers of Winnipeg to go east and bring back the Grey Cup, emblematic of the championship of Canada in Canadian football. In order to make a place for themselves in this company, the boys would have to play against first-rate opponents and these can be found almost in our own back yard, so to speak, namely in the state of Washington. The western Canadian and American codes are so alike that the slight difference in rules would have very little effect to a team used to both styles. About two seasons of this kind of opposition would find a team capable of playing any club in Canada and giving a good account of themselves. It is to this end that high school football is making its beginning this fall. Victoria has had many Dominion championships in the past and although not in this particular sport, there is every reason to believe that it is not too remote a possibility.

SO TO the boys who are turning out night after night to practice and who are doing their best to become more adept and skilful at this gruelling game and to the ones who have played in the past and will be returning from overseas to play again—our most sincere good wishes for many successful years ahead. Who knows, this might be a cure-all for some of the world's headaches. Any Canadian football player will tell you that a strenuous season of practicing and playing this game, leaves no time or energy for one to consider starting a war no matter how easy the opposition may seem.

Stan Moore Wins Fishing Derby

With an 11½-pound coho Stan Moore won the first prize of a fishing reel in the Vancouver Island Power Boat Squadron annual fishing derby Sunday at Cowichan Bay and vicinity.

On Saturday, prior to the fishing derby, members of the squadron made an excursion trip to the Queen Alexandra Solarium, where they entertained crippled children and presented them with toys, games, chocolates, candies and dillie cups. Arrangements for the visit to the Solarium and for presents for the children were made by Phil Simpson, Bert Simms and Johnny Johnson. Over $100 was collected for gifts.

Later the boats returned to Genoa Bay and the fishing derby began at dawn Sunday and continued until the fish were brought to the official weigher, Norman Hill.

Second prize went to Dave Moore who landed a 9½-pound coho, while Mrs. J. Ormond won third prize with a 6-pound coho.

The committee consisted of Norman Hill, Len Mackenzie and Dave Moore.

Victoria Baseball Assured Support

Victoria Professional Baseball Club is assured of a good flow of clever ball talent by Eddie Leishman, Oakland scout and former manager of the Spokane team in the W.I.B.L.

After spending a few days with Leishman, Laurel Harney, manager of the Victoria club, was assured that Victoria would get a choice of high-class ball players, including those now playing with Oakland and those with prospects to go ahead in baseball.

Devinenz, manager of the Oakland club, pledged his aid.

San Francisco Seals has promised Victoria aid if necessary. A surplus of ball players is likely to be created by the return of men from the services, and Victoria should have a good selection, Harney stated.

St. Catharines Takes Lacrosse Series

ST. CATHARINES (CP)—St. Catharines Athletics Monday night captured the senior Ontario and Eastern Canada lacrosse championship by defeating Brampton-Lakeshore combines 13 to 5 in the sixth game of a best of seven series.

Victory gave St. Catharines a 4 to 2 edge in the series, and qualified them to meet the British Columbia champions at Vancouver next month in the Mann Cup final series. Athletics defeated New Westminster Salmonbellies in a bruising set for the Mann Cup last year.

Netminder Bill Whitaker, recently adjudged the league's most valuable player, dominated the contest with one of the greatest displays of his career of more than a decade. Whitaker held the sharpshooting combines scoreless through a 20-minute stretch in the second half.

Thorpe, Smith, Urquhart and Mackie counted two goals apiece for St. Catharines, who finished the regular season in second place behind Brampton. Gord Gair led combines with two tallies.

Lloyd Waner Retires

CHICAGO (AP)—Lloyd Waner, the "little poison" of that long-time one-two punch of Pittsburgh Pirates, has hung a sweaty uniform in a major league clubhouse for the last time.

He did it Sunday, at Wrigley Field.

"I'll probably never wear one again," the 150-pound little giant, poison to National League pitchers for 18 years, said as he left for his farm in Oklahoma.

"But I won't be out of baseball. I'll be around again next year. I have some business to take care of, or I'd stay the rest of the season."

He didn't divorce himself from the Pirate organization when he went home. There's some sort of job with Mrs. Mary Dreyfuss' club awaiting him next spring, but just what it will be has not been announced.

Indians Play Friday

TORONTO (CP)—Toronto Oakwood Indians, leaders of the Ontario Rugby Football Union, announced Monday night arrangements have been made for Indians to meet Toronto Balmy Beach under floodlights Friday at Maple Leaf Stadium.

The game originally was scheduled for Saturday, conflicting with a scheduled interprovincial union game at Varsity Stadium between Toronto Argonauts and Ottawa Rough Riders.

Final Week of Majors

Pennant Races Close

By JACK HANDE

Will Harridge and Ford Frick might well devote some time today to the interesting possibility of a pennant tie in either or both major leagues as the top contenders enter the final nerve-racking six days.

It's never happened before and probably won't this time but if Detroit loses three of its last four and the St. Louis Cardinals sweep two more from Chicago the confusion will be knee-deep.

Best chance for a deadlock is in the American where Washington has finished its season and has nothing more to do than wait and pray for the Tigers to get knocked over by Cleveland and St. Louis. When Harridge rejected their protest of Sunday's first game the Senators' last chance to gain was snuffed out.

Steve O'Neil has a chance to be sure of at least a tie by beating Cleveland today in the opener of a two-day set and he has nominated Al Benton to do the job. However, there always remains the chance that the Tribe could cop one or both games and make it necessary for the Bengals to sweep their final two in St. Louis Saturday and Sunday, to nose past the idle Senators.

The Cub-Cardinal two-day series opening at Wrigley Field today is loaded with world series possibilities for the gallant stretch drive of the champion Red Birds has caught the fancy of the public.

Beaten 15 times in 20 starts by Billy Southworth's gang, the Cubs now are only 1½ games ahead of St. Louis. Inability of the Chicagoans to stop the on-rushing Cardinals has cost them much prestige as well as several precious lengths in the won and lost columns.

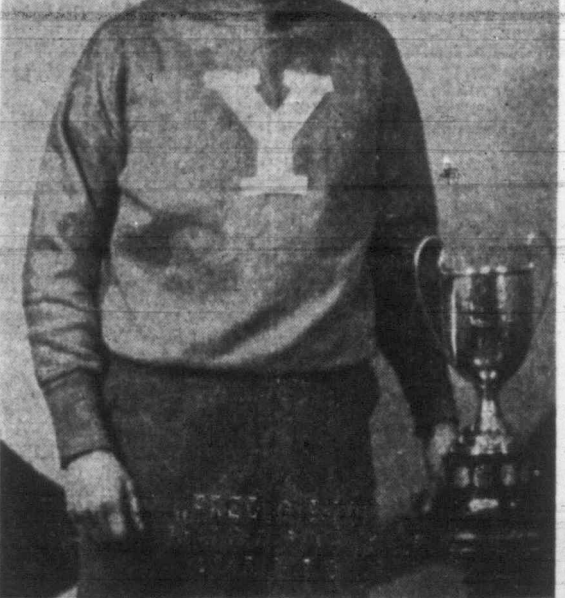

Twice within the last month, Hank Borowy, the former Yankee, has defeated St. Louis in 10 innings, each time by a 4 to 1 score, he'll get another chance today. He will be opposed by Harry (The Cat) Brecheen.

HAMILTON PROTESTS
TORONTO (CP)—Protest committee of the Ontario Rugby Football Union met today in Hamilton to consider a protest lodged by Hamilton Wildcats following their 6 to 4 defeat by Toronto Oakwood Indians, O.R.F.U. secretary Harold Bailey said.

Wildcats claim a fourth-quarter placement attempt by George (Scotty) Wright, ruled a single point by the officials when the ball rolled to the deadline, should have been declared good for three points.

The placement, if declared good, would have tied the score 6 to 6.

Local Athlete Leaves

RONNEY DALZIEL

By ANNETTE SEYWRIGHT
If ever an athlete deserved reward for perseverance, patience and fortitude, it was Ronney Dalziel, Victoria's popular young athlete, when he nosed out the Washington runners, Bill McIntyre and Mark Pitman, at the police sports at Hastings Park oval in Vancouver, July 3, 1944.

It was before a crowd of 10,000 fans that "Dream-man Dalziel" brought honors to Victoria when he polished the track in the 100-yard junior open and the 220 open dash. The latter by the "skin of the teeth," says Ronney. It was the first time in his track career that he felt the competition very strong. However, he came out champ even though he had to run one race right after the other.

At the University School sports on May 5, 1944, Dalziel was right in the limelight, becoming the talk of the town, and carving out quite a name for himself in sports. He broke the 100-yard dash for the second consecutive time in 10.1 to better the 0.4 record established in 1912. To top the day off, he copped the 220-yard open as well as the cricket throw. This meant a lot to the game lad and certainly put a perennial smile on Coach Archie McKinnon's face.

Although his victories are too numerous to mention, his vast array of trophies are enough to gladden any mother's heart. Among some of these are: Six large cups, 13 small cups, 14 ribbons (four of these are for swimming), three colors representing cups and 18 medals, the last named being for high jump, shooting, boxing, running and English rugby.

For the next six months he is making his residence in Vancouver to take a course, after which he will return to Victoria.

Proposes Sports For Every Fit Pupil

Participation of every fit child in some part of a balanced physical education program was described by the newly-appointed director of physical education in Saanich schools, James Morrison, as his chief aim when he explained his plans to a meeting Monday night of the Saanich School Board.

He said his objectives were the development of strong, healthy bodies and training with a carry-over value, as a consequence of which children would organize their own physical recreation in after-school hours and in years after leaving school. Formal gymnastics, he said, had been greatly over-rated in the past, and he would seek to start a program of many varied types of games, in which all fit school children would take part.

Vancouver Girl Gets Skating Appointment

At 17, Helen Legge of Vancouver has been appointed head professional of the Providence Skating Club, Providence, R.I., where she will instruct more than 350 people in the fine art of figure skating. Helen, who flies east Oct. 16 for her new appointment, moved to Vancouver from her native Ottawa where she started skating at the age of 11 under the banner of the Minto Club. For the last few months she has trained at Colorado Springs, passing her fifth figure test and silver dance test. Helen is confident of success in her new job, which she accepted from 11 offers.

Burrards Take Lead In Intercity Finals

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Vancouver Burrards took a 3 to 1 lead in the best-of-seven intercity box lacrosse league finals when they edged New Westminster Adanacs 13 to 12 in the fourth game before a crowd of more than 4,000 here Monday.

Burrards, leaders of the circuit most of the season, led all the way and managed to hold off a last-quarter drive by the Adanacs.

Score at the end of the first quarter was 5 to 4 and by half-time the Vancouver team held an 8 to 5 advantage. They went ahead 12 to 8 at the end of the third quarter.

Bill Harris, classy Burrard forward, led the scoring parade with three goals and one assist. Jimmy Douglas was top man for Adanacs with two goals.

$5,000,000 Wagered

Hunters Get Limit Bags

Youth Kills Cougar

Douglas Robinson, 17, shot a female cougar over the week-end while hunting near Calvin's Farm three miles from Cowichan Station.

The cougar had killed a deer not far from the farm Thursday and Robinson picked up its tracks from there. He called for aid from Tom Boyles who brought his cougar hounds and they treed the cat.

Robinson also got his limit of grouse and on Wednesday, while on a hunting trip with a companion, brought home a black bear.

Roger Monteith has returned from a hunting trip in the Cowichan Lake district with Jack Gray, Berkeley Monteith and Cecil Gore. They all boast a limit and report that the coveys are better this year than last and that the birds are big. Billy Davis, Dr. R. B. Hunter, Dr. Norman Cook, Arthur Pitts and Ted Lewis all found grouse shooting good at Robertson River and at Hill 60.

Fishing generally is reported poor. Ernest McConnell caught two cohoes and a number of grise at Brentwood Saturday. Bill Dorsey and Cliff Potter caught a couple of spring salmon about nine pounds each at Nanaimo Bay. They were using a No. 7 McMahon spoon.

Beavers, Rainiers In Cup Playoff Clash

A red-hot feud that produced some of the most bitterly fought games of the Pacific Coast League season will be renewed tonight when the champion Portland Beavers tackle the runner-up Seattle Rainiers in the opening clash of the Governors' Cup playoff semifinals.

For three nights the two northwest clubs will battle it out at Portland's Vaughn Street Park, and then switch to Seattle for the remaining contests of the seven-game series.

Sacramento and San Francisco, the other two first division teams in the playoff, will start their semifinals Wednesday night on the Solons' home field.

The Bay City Seals are going after the cup for the third straight year and a tie with Seattle's 1940-41 record string of consecutive victories.

San Francisco copped the trophy in 1943 and then repeated last year.

The Portland-Seattle "civil war" is a rivalry that has existed nearly as long as the circuit has been in operation. Almost any season is considered a success by the skipper of the northwest club which finishes ahead of the other.

This year the Beavers, who won their first league crown since 1936, have paced the pack since the third week of the season, and during those initial weeks were out of first place only three playing days. Hot on their heels all year have been the Rainiers, who several times came within half a game of the top but were never quite able to make the grade. Seattle's last spurt in the final weeks of August closed the gap to a game and a half, but Portland snapped out of a slump and wound up the schedule Sunday eight and a half games in front. During the 29 games played by the two clubs Portland won 15, Seattle 14.

The Rainiers failed to make the playoffs last year while the Beavers were eliminated 42 by the Angels in the semifinals.

Most of Portland's success this year can be attributed to a steady, consistent pitching staff, as evidenced by the fact that six Beavers' hurlers ended the season in the first 15 while no other club had more than two on the list.

Trophy for Biggest Duck

REGINA (CP)—Saskatchewan hunters bagging plump ducks between Sept. 20 and Oct. 13 this fall may find it pays off to get the biggest. The provincial resources department and the Fish and Game League are sponsoring the first annual duck derby to promote duck hunting in the province, and will award a trophy for the heaviest duck. Runners-up will receive sports equipment as prizes.

SOCCER MEETING

A general meeting of the Victoria and District Football League will be held at 8 Wednesday in the boardroom of the Britannia Branch, Canadian Legion Hall, Blanshard and Cormorant Streets.

Hunters Get Limit Bags

Youth Kills Cougar

Douglas Robinson, 17, shot a female cougar over the week-end while hunting near Calvin's Farm three miles from Cowichan Station.

The cougar had killed a deer not far from the farm Thursday and Robinson picked up its tracks from there. He called for aid from Tom Boyles who brought his cougar hounds and they treed the cat.

Robinson also got his limit of grouse and on Wednesday, while on a hunting trip with a companion, brought home a black bear.

Roger Monteith has returned from a hunting trip in the Cowichan Lake district with Jack Gray, Berkeley Monteith and Cecil Gore. They all boast a limit and report that the coveys are better this year than last and that the birds are big. Billy Davis, Dr. R. B. Hunter, Dr. Norman Cook, Arthur Pitts and Ted Lewis all found grouse shooting good at Robertson River and at Hill 60.

Fishing generally is reported poor. Ernest McConnell caught two cohoes and a number of grise at Brentwood Saturday. Bill Dorsey and Cliff Potter caught a couple of spring salmon about nine pounds each at Nanaimo Bay. They were using a No. 7 McMahon spoon.

ALBERTA FISHING GOOD

Port Alberni Tyee Club reports good fishing in the Port Alberni area.

S. J. Cohen and party from Vancouver, in two days landed 15 fish weighing 32½ pounds. Sam took the honors with a 52½ pound beauty.

S. Y. Pitt and party, of Painesdale, Calif., enjoyed two days' fishing. Jay Harris led the foursome with a 59 pounder. During their visit they cruised Alberni

They'll Do It Every Time

To Install New Lights On Douglas Street Immediately

Installation of a new lighting system along three blocks of Douglas Street, between Fort and Johnson Streets, will be started immediately, it was decided at Monday's City Council meeting as $3,700 was voted for the project. The sum voted will also provide 40 new lights for residential districts.

Ald. W. H. Davies, chairman of the electric light committee, reported on the proposed new system, which he advocated should be installed progressively until the outmoded cluster lights are all gone from the city's business district.

Ald. Ed. Williams commended the electric light committee on its fine report, and said he thought Victoria should strive to have the most modern lighting system available. He expressed surprise at the low cost of installation.

In answer to a question, Kenneth Reid, city electrician, explained that the new lighting units would be on 25-foot standards to secure the proper diffusion of light. Present standards are 15 feet tall. There will be six of the new lights to a block, and it is estimated they will give three times the illumination of the present system.

DISCONTINUE TRIBUTE

The Council decided to discontinue the practice of a minute's silent tribute to the war dead, who had given their lives in the intervening period between council meetings. Ald. F. A. Willis pointed out that with the war over, there were no new deaths. Ald. Willis suggested that the tribute could easily become a mere matter of routine, and he felt that, "with the memories in our hearts and minds we should look forward now, not backward."

Ald. J. A. Worthington was the only dissenter in the resolution, feeling that the tribute should be kept on.

Ald. Willis brought up the question of business firms using city property under the pavements, and in some instances obtaining revenue from it, while neither rent nor taxes are paid the city.

He suggested that where under-sidewalk properties are used, at least a nominal rent should be paid the city and the matter was referred to the finance committee for investigation.

QUICK-FREEZE LOCKERS

A proposal from the Lands and Zoning Committee that quick-freeze lockers be permitted in residential districts, was approved by the council, after it was explained by Maj. K. Crockett, lands commissioner, that he felt such lockers would fill a need of housewives in the city. He said he was "absolutely sold" on the necessity for allowing such lockers to be established within the city.

It was pointed out that they would not interfere with any property in the district. Maj. Crockett told of visiting such units in Vancouver and elsewhere.

Kenneth Reid, city electrician, said, in answer to a question from Ald. F. G. Mulliner, that there would be no radio interference from the appliances.

Ald. B. J. Gadsden was named city representative at the meeting of the four municipalities of Greater Victoria, with B. C. Bracewell, deputy minister of municipal affairs, Friday, to discuss appointment of a commission to investigate amalgamation of the four.

Ald. H. M. Diggon registered disapproval of the idea of placing a plaque to mark the tree planted by Winston Churchill in Beacon Hill Park some years ago. He said that it would probably be removed or stolen shortly, and could see little point in it.

TAG DAYS

A letter from the Trades and Labor Council protesting against the large number of tag days in Victoria was referred to the 1946 finance committee, as nothing can be done on the matter this year.

S. N. Dimoline was named special registrar for the 1945-46 civic voters' list.

Sale of 30 parcels of land for $6,987.50 was approved. Included in these were 18 lots to veterans. Two veterans who found it impossible to complete purchase of city lots had their deposits returned to them, while a civilian who did not complete her purchase forfeited her deposit.

The matter of leasing property to the Sikh Temple will be considered at the next meeting of the Lands Committee, Ald. Hunter said.

The bicycle registration by-law, which provides for a license fee for all bicycles being ridden in the city, received its first reading. It will be finally passed at the next council meeting. The Wartime Housing Ltd. by-law received its final reading.

A. V. Danby, assistant assessor-collector, was granted an extension of sick leave to Oct. 15. A letter of regret at his continued illness will be forwarded on behalf of the council.

Booklet Outlines C.C.F. Programs

Planks on which the C.C.F. will seek election during the Oct. 25 provincial general elections are outlined in a 32-page booklet complete with 13 halftone cuts and preface by the provincial party's leader, Harold E. Winch.

Just off the press the booklet is being distributed to C.C.F. clubs throughout the province.

"The election of the C.C.F.," says Mr. Winch in the preface, "will mean the dawning of a new and better day for the people of British Columbia. The C.C.F. has confidence that with the ability of our people and vastness of our resources we can successfully meet all problems, provided the province is administered by a government of vision and courage and dedicated to the principle of the greatest good to the greatest number."

The party's policies on demobilization include co-ordination of activities of local committees to facilitate reabsorption of veterans, survey of employment opportunities, extension of vocational training and public works projects.

At the reconvening of the Dominion-Provincial Conference the C.C.F., if elected, would ask for Dominion jurisdiction in social security and health measures with administration and concurrent jurisdiction vested in the province to permit provincial standards above the national minima; Dominion jurisdiction over labor legislation to establish a Dominion minimum standard with concurrent provincial power to raise provincial standards above such minimum, right of the Canadian people to enact their own constitution and to vest in Canadian courts final judicial appeals, consolidation and refunding with Dominion assistance of provincial and municipal debts and participation by the provinces in plans for the development of heavy industries.

'Little Olympics' Staged By Troops

BERLIN (AP) — Snubbed by the Russians, who withdrew without explanation, British, American and French troops staged a "Little Olympics" at the Berlin Olympic Stadium today which the Americans won by an overwhelming score.

A crowd of 15,000 saw them pile up 94 points to 43 for the British forces and 25 for the French.

Although the Russians gave no reason for their 11th hour withdrawal, it was understood they walked out when their request to bring in athletes from other sectors was turned down. Only troops stationed in Berlin were eligible.

The Story of the Atom

(1) Atomic power, plus radar, television, facsimile broadcasting, jet propelled planes, and many other advances in science, such as penicillin and sulfa drugs that quickly cure disease, should bring new living through a closely knit world. Peacetime uses of atomic power may permit the manufacture of useful machines at a fraction of their present cost, and their operation at less than one-tenth the price of the cheapest hydro-electric power available to can create his own weather. Atomic power may bring many changes in man's mode of living. He may find it more convenient to build well-lighted air conditioned cities underground with beautiful parks, forest and farm lands on the ground above. A trip to the country, to summer's sun and winter's snow, would mean a ride of a few feet in an elevator.

(2) Minerals for the production of glass, aluminum, magnesium and other building materials, abundant throughout the earth, needing only great sources of power to refine them. With these materials, areas of many acres may be enclosed in glass. Constructed in the polar regions, the tropics or on the mountains, these structures might surround resorts to help people to a vigorous and more adventurous life. The resorts may be reached in a few hours by atomic-powered jet-propelled planes.

No. 17: The Future

(3) Many fantastic projects to make life more easy and comfortable have been suggested. How soon will some of these be possible? The Allied governments appointed a special committee of scientists to investigate the peace-time possibilities of atomic power, and the first report is the atomic power "for special purposes" could be developed in 10 years.

The End.

Many Seek Work At Local Office

Approximately 75 men a day, 50 of them ex-service personnel, are registering for work at the National Employment Service of the Unemployment Insurance Commission at Victoria, C. A. Mudge, local manager, said today. "We have handled about 75 new applicants a day for the past three weeks and the number is increasing all the time as more men are receiving their discharges from the services," he said.

"The ex-servicemen are most co-operative and we have had little difficulty in placing them; of course, some want to wait and look around to see what is offered in various lines of work." There has been little difficulty over reinstatement of servicemen in their pre-enlistment jobs, according to Mr. Mudge. He advised employers to look over their establishments to appraise their labor needs now. The servicemen are seeking jobs of a permanent nature and a number of inquiries have been received on apprenticeships, Mr. Mudge continued.

"We have a large number of jobs but they are gradually being filled up," he said. For the past month an employer relations section has been in operation at the local office to serve the needs of the individual employer and letters are being sent to employers on the work of the section.

"Officers especially charged with the responsibility of looking after the employers' interests have been assigned for this purpose. We trust employers will avail themselves of these services and will discuss with our officers any problems in connection with employment or unemployment insurance matters."

The letters will be followed up by a personal visit from the employment service officer.

Revenue $40,813,000 Surplus $6,900,000 For Last Fiscal Year

An all-time high of $40,813,000 in the B.C. government's revenue for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1945, resulting in an over-all revenue surplus of approximately $6,900,000, was announced today by Premier John Hart.

The over-all revenue surplus was coupled with substantial reductions in the net and gross debts, he said. "Since 1933, revenues have exceeded ordinary expenditures by $66,000,000," the Premier's announcement reported. "This amount has provided approximately $28,255,000 for debt redemption and $14,745,000 for unemployment relief, thus leaving a net revenue surplus of $23,000,000."

The Premier concurrently announced that the gross and net debts of the province have been substantially reduced as follows: The gross debt by $14,330,000 since 1941 and the net debt by $4,623,000 since 1941.

"The gross debt of the province as at March 31, 1945, amounted to $150,588,000, and net debt, $132,196,000," he said. "This has been accomplished despite increase in expenditures on behalf of old-age pensions, mothers' pensions, social service allowances, education, public works, municipal aid and other public services," Mr. Hart said. "In order to provide new and improved highways and bridges; new provincial buildings, assistance in construction of institutions, hospitals and schools, $8,000,000 were appropriated from this surplus by the enactment of statutory provisions during 1944 and 1945," he continued. "Only a portion of this sum has been spent."

The unappropriated portion of the revenue surplus, amounting to $15,000,000, together with a sum of $1,686,000, which accrued under the Dominion-provincial tax agreement and which is "held in suspense, makes available for new projects, a total of $16,686,000," he said. Total revenue for the 1943-44 fiscal year was $38,760,636.05. Total expenditure that year was $31,484,747.99.

Jose Iturbi Stars In Film Concert

Something different in the movie world came to the Dominion Theatre today when "Adventure in Music" opened for a three-day showing. At a special preview last week music teachers, students and other specially invited guests saw how the camera caught the technique of such world-famous artists as Jose Iturbi and Vronsky and Babin. Running a full hour the film also includes the playing of Emanuel Feuermann, cellist; Mildred Dilling, harpist, and the Coolidge string quartette. All are photographed so the audience sees their playing far better than they could ever do from the concert stage.

Star of the film concert is Jose Iturbi who plays Liszt's "Hungarian Rhapsody" and Chopin's "Fantasie Impromptu." Some of the most unusual shots show how Vronsky and Babin play "Flight of the Bumble Bee," by Rimsky-Korsakov.

Others reproduce the Coolidge String Quartette, one of the most outstanding, showing how they play the brilliant conclusion to Van Ditterseof's "Andante" from String Quartette in E Flat Major. Here the camera focuses on the four string instruments.

Intricate fret and bow work is photographed as Feuermann plays Paganini's "Spinning Song." Among Mildred Dilling's selections which drew admiring comment at the preview was "The Fountain," by Zabel.

Being Modernized

Unused as a drydock for nearly 25 years, the old drydock, officially opened at Esquimalt in 1887, has been modernized by conversion of its steam pumps to ones powered by electricity.

The old drydock was first used to drydock the 1,800-ton frigate H.M.C.S. Coaticook. Coaticook was built in Quebec, commissioned in July, 1944, and was on escort duty out of Halifax before coming here.

The drydock, before modernization, had been flooded and used as a dock for small craft, including vessels of the Fishermen's Reserve.

Ships 460 feet in length can be handled and the drydock is capable of taking destroyers and smaller type vessels. Larger ships are handled at the new drydock.

It is expected the old one may soon go into full operation, although officials say the amount of work depends on government naval policy regarding the number of ships to be stationed at Esquimalt. However, it is believed the naval strength here will be considerably more than that of prewar years.

'Teen Canteen Maps Ambitious Program for Year

The official opening of the "Teen Canteen" will take place in the former Hostess House Nov. 3, it was announced at the executive meeting of the Council of Social Agencies Monday evening.

Plans for a large expansion in the work of "Teen Canteen" were discussed now that suitable quarters are available, and the young people themselves have an ambitious program mapped out.

Whereas in the past only Saturday night dances could be held for the teen-agers in schools, now it will be possible to inaugurate hobby classes and it is their intention to obtain a paid leader. The P.T.A. and Y.W.C.A. will continue to act as sponsors for the teen activities.

Among other things the youngsters wish to hold study nights when they can do their school lessons in a group with one or more teachers in attendance to give any needed assistance.

PLAYGROUNDS

W. H. Warren, parks superintendent, reported on the summer playground activities in the city parks, and said the average age of children attending was nine years. This year a much higher percentage of small children were in attendance, he said, more than 300 were taught how to swim.

He praised the work of St. John Ambulance Brigade and Miss Marion Foster of the Y.W.C.A. in helping. He suggested that the various groups sponsoring playground activities in the area should have their work coordinated more, and that a small library be set up for the workers.

The Rehabilitation Council budget was accepted by the Community Chest on the recommendation of the Council of Social Agencies.

The special salary committee reported on the new salary schedule which was accepted. It provides a starting point of $65 per month for stenographers and maximum for executives in the various agencies of $190 per month.

The John Howard Society is preparing an open letter to be sent to the Prime Minister on penal reform, the executive were informed, and they pledged their help in getting support for the letter.

The P.T.A. reported that the home playground competition met with small response this year, but they were satisfied that a good start had been made and would carry on a similar competition next year.

Dr. R. Felton, president of the Council of Social Agencies, was in the chair.

Editor Impresses Gyros With Talk On Gulf Islands

Saanich Peninsula and the Gulf Islands, with an average of six hours sunshine daily rank officially with Kenya Colony as enjoying the best climate in the world, Fred C. E. Ford told the Gyro Club yesterday.

Mr. Ford, who is publisher of the Saanich Peninsula and Gulf Islands Review, impressed his audience with his eloquence and enthusiasm in extolling the beauty of the islands. He also touched interestingly on their historical background, telling of the daring and skill of the early explorers who traveled through the many islands in those days.

A group of negroes who had escaped from slavery had settled on Salt Spring Island and had become good citizens, Mr. Ford said.

INDUSTRY

The growing importance of the industries of the area was reviewed by the speaker. Telling of the pulp and flower industry, he said that besides adding beauty to the countryside, the flower-growing industry was a profitable one. Boatbuilding and fishing were also referred to by the speaker, who commented that it was industries in outlying districts that helped to measure the importance of a city.

A. W. Pendray, club president, announced there would be no Gyro meeting next Monday. Installation of officers will take place at a dinner and dance Oct. 3, in the Empress Hotel.

Tenders for the purchase of the Duchess Street fire hall have been called by M. F. Hunter, city clerk. Bids will be received until Oct. 8. Acceptance of any offer must be subject to the approval of the electors at the municipal elections in December.

A $15 fine for exceeding the 30 m.p.h. speed limit, eight $2.50 fines for parking regulation violations, and two $5 fines for failure to make a hand signal and failure to produce a driver's license, were imposed in city police court today by Magistrate H. C. Hall.

City firemen answered three fire-calls Monday night and this morning. At 6:25 p.m. firemen were called to 332 Douglas Street where smoke filled an attic during chimney-cleaning operations.

At 7:55 p.m. they extinguished a car fire on Collinson Street, and at 8:13 a.m. they extinguished an oil-stove fire at 929 North Park Street.

Permits for 13 more of the Wartime Houses for veterans were issued by the city building department today for houses to be built on Taunton Road and Prior Street. Four of them were for six-room houses, value $4,000, and nine for four-room houses, value $3,500. Another permit was issued to Jacob B. Dalman to erect a six-room house at 3149 Sheilbourne Street, value $4,850.

Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council has written the city council commending it for its resolution asking for improved letter carrier service in Victoria. The labor group also commend the council for action in sponsoring the amendment to the Weekly Half Holiday and Shop Regulations Act at the recent convention of the Union of B.C. Municipalities.

Puckle Says India Able to Govern If Factions Agree

India is capable of self-government if Moslem and Hindu factions can agree on internal difficulties, Sir Frederick Puckle, adviser on India-affairs at Washington, D.C., said in an interview.

A veteran of 30 years in the Indian Civil Service, he is making a tour of Canada for the United Kingdom Information Department and the Canadian Institute of International Affairs.

Sir Frederick addressed a joint luncheon meeting of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce and Kiwanis Club at the Empress Hotel today on "India in the British Commonwealth and Empire."

The type of national government India is to have next spring, Sir Frederick said, will be decided by provincial and central government elections this year.

Among major problems confronting the new Indian government would be educating a population of 400,000,000, of which only 15 per cent now are literate.

Developing leaders of national administrative ability would be another factor for consideration, he said, as India, while having many minor officials lacks leadership. Whether a "strong man of India" will emerge from her youth remains to be seen.

Industrialization of the country will depend on employment of technicians other than native and on loans from abroad, "because India's national income before the war was less than that of the state of New York."

Future relations between the white and Asiatic races, he continued, depended upon willingness of the western powers to accept them on equal footing.

China was at present the greatest threat to peace in Asia, because "her internal strife could cause trouble all over Asia unless settled."

"Asia needs the help of Christian powers, but this help must be on an equal footing, that these countries will spend more money on butter than on guns." Sir Frederick said Japan never has been considered a dominant power in Asia, only as merchants who continually strove to undersell other countries by coile methods. As her exports will be restricted for many years to come, Asia should be able to make considerable progress within the next few years.

Community Chest Donation Brings Luck to Giver

There is one woman in Victoria who firmly believes that giving to the Community Chest is the luckiest thing she ever did and every year she gives to the limit of her ability.

Miss Sara Spencer, chairman of the residential canvass division, related the story of the lady who, back in the depression years was very much up against it.

Her husband was out of work, and the family finances had reached the stage where there was only 50 cents left in the exchequer. At that point a Community Chest canvasser called and the lady explained that she had only 50 cents but she was willing to split it and give 25 cents to the canvasser for the Community Chest.

The canvasser was reluctant to take the money but the woman pressed it upon her, saying that she was convinced that now their luck would change, and sure enough the next day her husband got another job.

Despite the bad weather the canvasser is progressing and this morning. At 6:25 p.m. firemen were called to 332 Douglas Street where smoke filled an attic during chimney-cleaning operations.

At 7:55 p.m. they extinguished a car fire on Collinson Street, and at 8:13 a.m. they extinguished an oil-stove fire at 929 North Park Street.

Victoria Officer Eluded Capture

Lieut. Ian Ernest Alcock, D.S.C., of Victoria, recently reported safe after being missing since June in Burma, joined resistance forces and eluded capture by the Japanese. It was stated today in a report from Naval Service Headquarters in Ottawa.

Lieut. Alcock, son of Capt. and Mrs. E. G. Alcock, Eaton Avenue, was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross in July for service in hazardous reconnaissance in Burma. A telegram reporting him safe and aboard a Royal Navy ship was received by his parents a week ago.

All Royal Canadian Navy personnel known to have been taken prisoner during the war have been freed, Naval Service Headquarters announced, with the recovery of two naval officers held prisoners in Java. The officers are Lieut. George Tidy of Toronto and Sub-Lieut. Richard Hugh Leir of Penicton. They were serving aboard the British cruiser Exeter when she was sunk in action March 1, 1942.

Grocer Fined $300

Grocer Reginald Lowe was fined $300 and $2.50 costs in city police court today after pleading guilty to charges of displaying goods for sale without marking prices on them and of selling certain articles at a higher price than the maximum laid down by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

Lowe's counsel told the court that the grocery store was owned by Lowe, his elderly father, and two brothers who were in the armed services, and that Lowe himself has been ill and unable to give his full time to the store.

Magistrate H. C. Hall, however, said that a $150 fine imposed on Lowe in July seemed to have had little effect and that the second fine must be substantial.

Big Racing Firm Incorporated Here

The B.C. Turf and Country Club Ltd., Vancouver racing organization with a reported capitalization of $1,000,000, has been incorporated under the Companies Act at the Parliament Buildings.

In Vancouver it was reported that Charles S. Howard, U.S. thoroughbred owner, Bing Crosby and Pat O'Brien, of motion picture and racing fame, were interested in the formation of the $1,000,000 syndicate.

G. L. Fraser, Vancouver attorney, is mentioned in the papers filed here, but details of the new company have not been filed yet.

It is expected full details of the syndicate will be filed under the Companies Act shortly.

Mr. Crosby and Mr. O'Brien are major shareholders in the Del Mar racing track in California.

Mr. Howard has raced such famous horses as Seabiscuit, Sea Swallow and Kyak II.

Mayor in Vancouver To Talk Utilities

Mayor Percy George flew to Vancouver this morning to attend an emergency meeting with Mayor J. W. Cornett, Vancouver, and Mayor W. M. Mott, New Westminster, dealing with the possible taking over of the B.C. Electric Railway Co. Ltd. in the 31 municipalities the company serves.

The three mayors are a sub-committee representing the 31 municipalities which will have to vote, possibly during the December municipal elections, on whether or not they wish to take over the public utilities.

At the last meeting of the committee, several weeks ago, the Gilman firm of New York, which has been conducting a survey of the properties, was asked to make several amendments in its report, and it is believed the amended report may be submitted today.

Before any plebiscite is put, the larger committee, representing all 31 municipalities, will probably be called.

Ask Trial By Jury In Hospital Case

Appeal opened today in Court of Appeal here of George F. Taylor, Prince George rancher and his wife, M. L. Taylor, commercial artist, against dismissal by Mr. Justice Coady of their application for trial before judge and jury in their claim against the Vancouver General Hospital, et al.

G. F. McMaster appeared for the Taylors and contended Mr. Justice Coady had erred in taking away the right of the plaintiffs to a common jury without sufficient justification in law. They had claimed damages amounting to $1,367 for injuries suffered by Mrs. Taylor as a result of a surgical operation alleging the hospital and doctors had failed to supply adequate attention.

Alfred Bull, K.C., and L. St. DuMoulin appeared for the defendants.

CAPITOL THEATRE

That all important portrait in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "The Picture of Dorian Gray," now at the Capitol Theatre, which ages horribly while its living likeness, Dorian Gray, remains young throughout this strange Oscar Wilde story was painted by, of all persons, a humorist!

During filming of the picture, Ivan Le Lorraine Albright, renowned in the art world as "America's only living old master," and his twin, Malvin, who came along just for the ride from their home in Warrenville, Ill., kept all Hollywood in stitches with their antics.

ATLAS THEATRE

"Objective, Burma," Warner Bros.' dramatic film hit now playing at the Atlas Theatre, is the story of the current India-Burma campaign, based on an original story by Alvah Bessie. The screen play was written by Lester Cole and Ronald MacDougall.

OAK BAY AND PLAZA THEATRES

Jack Benny's apartment, conceived and designed by Fred Allen, provides a background for one of the outstanding sequences in "The Fifth Chair." Allen's new comedy which is now at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres. The apartment, said to contain several surprising innovations, was also a source of considerable amazement to Benny when he arrived at the studio for scenes with his amiable antagonist.

RIO THEATRE

The screen's first great drama of our carrier force in action, 20th Century-Fox's epic, "Wing and a Prayer—The Story of Carrier X," is currently at the Rio Theatre.

Featured in the rousing saga of the navy aircraft carrier and its crew who came in on the wings of Victory and the prayers of the nation, are Don Ameche, Dana Andrews and William Eythe with an outstanding supporting cast. The film tells the story of an unidentified aircraft carrier in the early days of shock and confusion following Pearl Harbor.

'Adventure in Music' Comes to Dominion

"Adventure in Music" is a film that everyone should see and hear, and once seen and heard, it will have to be heard and seen again and yet again, a film chockful of beauty and emotion of strange unexpected power. If you only just loved music before you see this remarkable "adventure" you will worship it forever afterwards. The chief delight of it is something subtle and lovely that must not be talked or written about, something strangely intimate that ordinary concerts don't provide. "Adventure in Music" is now being shown at the Dominion Theatre.

'Rookery Nook' At Little Theatre

The farce comedy, "Rookery Nook," which will be produced by the Victoria Little Theatre on Thursday and Friday, Oct. 4 and 5, was written for laughter purposes only and is without doubt one of the funniest plays presented on the professional stage for years. It enjoyed deservedly long runs in London and New York.

The play here will be staged under the direction of H. J. S. Reynolds who was responsible for the successful production of "Arsenic and Old Lace" last season.

An excellent cast including some of the outstanding players in the Little Theatre has been assembled and a very elaborate stage setting has been specially built for the production by Les Lamb.

As it will only be possible to allot two nights to the general public the number of seats available will be strictly limited and many patrons are likely to be disappointed unless they obtain their tickets early. Tickets are on sale at the Marionette Library.

CADET THEATRE

Jane Wyman rode the Hollywood merry-go-round three times before catching the brass ring.

And now that ring is golden. With her 13th picture the ring has changed from brass to gold, for she has been given star rating for the first time.

The triple threat girl, who is currently co-starring with Jack Carson and Irene Manning in Warner Bros. "Make Your Own Bed," at the Cadet Theatre, accepted her elevation to stardom with a tremendous thrill.

YORK THEATRE

An entire London theatre, complete with 400-seat auditorium, stage, dressing-rooms and other facilities, was built by Columbia Pictures for its Victor Saville technicolor, dramatic musical, "Tonight and Every Night," currently starring Rita Hayworth with Janet Blair and Lee Bowman at the York Theatre. Because of the many comprehensive views required of stage and auditorium, mere fragmentary sets would not suffice.

Canada to Export 310,000,000 Lbs. Of Meat in 4 Months

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Ilsley said today in the Commons that Canada has undertaken to export 310,000,000 pounds of meat in the last four months of this year.

Making a long-awaited statement on meat rationing based on requests from members, Mr. Ilsley said the figures he had collected were not new, but might not have all been put together in a single statement before.

Following the tripartite meat conference at Washington recently, he said, Canada agreed to send an additional amount of meat to the United Kingdom and liberated countries above the amount previously contracted for.

This would bring total shipments up to 789,000,000 pounds made up of 225,000,000 pounds of beef, 450,000,000 of pork and 114,000,000 of canned meats. Actual shipments in 1944 were a total of 860,000,000 pounds, made up of 129,000,000 pounds of beef, 692,000,000 of pork and 39,000,000 pounds of canned meats.

South Africa Prepared to Buy Cars From Canada

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (CP)—Eric Blackwell, head of the Society of Automotive Manufacturers and Importers of South Africa, said in an interview here: "We can take all the cars Canada can send."

He said South Africa normally imports 35,000 motor vehicles yearly, but with the shortage caused by the war she could probably use 75,000 by the end of 1946.

Importers are not expecting vehicles from Canada or the United States before the end of this year, Mr. Blackwell added, partly because of labor troubles. But there was a big potential market in South Africa when Canada and the United States could deliver the goods, as there was before the war.

A. J. Simpson, South African motor-vehicles controller, said South Africa has no restrictions on imports of motor cars from Britain, Canada or the United States and will take all she can get.

Mr. Simpson has just returned from Britain, where he obtained the release of $25,000,000 worth of motor vehicles urgently needed by the South African transport and heavy haulage systems, both public and private.

Prince George Too Hot for Search

KETCHIKAN, Alaska (AP)—Although the fire, which gutted the Canadian National steamship Prince George and burned out her bottom, was extinguished today, after the steel plates were too hot to permit a boarding party to search for fireman Verdu McDaniel of Vancouver, missing since the vessel caught fire from an undetermined cause Saturday.

Meantime coast guardsmen, who towed her to the Gravina Island "Ships' Graveyard" guarded the wreck pending arrival of G. A. McMillan of Vancouver, superintendent for the steamship line. The coastguard is caring for her crew, which may be returned to Vancouver Thursday.

Vancouver Shipyard Closes in December

VANCOUVER (CP)—South Burrard shipyard will close in December, Clarence Wallace, president of Burrard Drydock Company, announced today. He added that it has not yet been decided what will be done with the equipment at the plant. Approximately 800 men now are employed in the yard which has orders to build four China coaster freighters.

More Canadians Coming From Orient

OTTAWA (CP)—Two further drafts of liberated Canadian prisoners of war from the Far East are due to arrive at San Francisco Oct 13 and 14, Defence Headquarters announced today.

The drafts will arrive on the vessels Joseph Dyckman, carrying 13 officers and 32 other ranks, and the Admiral Hughes, carrying 13 officers and 147 other ranks.

Headquarters also announced that 67 liberated prisoners will arrive at Vancouver today from San Francisco.

Want Vancouver Made 'Free Port'

VANCOUVER (CP)—Federal authorities will be asked to consider the establishment of a free port at Vancouver, Alderman Charles Thompson, harbor utilities and airport committee chairman, told the city council today. He promised to discuss the subject with proper officials when he visits Ottawa next month.

The DOCTOR Says:

EXHAUSTIVE TESTS SHOW PILLS DO NOT RESTORE HAIR COLOR

By WILLIAM A. O'BRIEN, M.D.

Can grey hair be restored to its original color by taking chemicals or vitamins? Part of this question is difficult to answer because no one knows what is meant by the original color of the hair, but the various vitamins and chemicals which have been tried on man under scientific conditions have not changed the color of grey hair, according to Modern Medicine for August, 1945. There is little evidence that members of the vitamin B complex used singly or in combination will restore the normal pigment of hair which has lost its color.

The idea that some form of malnutrition might be a factor in greying of the hair came from studies of severe starvation in animals and humans. Many years ago research workers observed rats became grey if fed on a deficient diet and when they were put back on a general diet and certain chemicals were added the original color of the hair was restored. A sufferer from severe pellagra, a nutritional deficiency disease, whose hair became white, is also reported to have regained the original hair color from eating a normal diet, plus certain vitamins.

To date no one chemical or vitamin has been found solely responsible for the greying of the hair. Darkening of the hair after giving large amounts of chemicals or vitamins may be due to a deposit of the chemical in the hair in the form of a dye. In some experiments a yellowish cast developed in the hair. But this was not the original color.

Hair is colored by the same pigments which color the cells of the skin. It is part of the aging of the body and like other changes, it may develop well in advance of the change as a whole. Early greying of the hair is not necessarily a sign of premature aging, as it is often observed in individuals who have enjoyed good health and a long life.

PILLS INEFFECTIVE

Irwin Kerlan, M.D., treated a group of office employees in a governmental agency who had been greying or gray for some time. Some were asked to serve as controls and they were not given the pills although their hair color was determined before, during, and after the experiment. Instead of depending upon eye judgment for hair color, special scientific tests determined the actual color of the hair. Hairs were clipped from both men and women in certain spots on the head and although these areas were studied throughout the entire experiment no color change was observed in the grey hairs after months of treatment.

The old philosopher tells us there is only one thing to be done about grey hair and that is to admire it. In a young person it gives the owner a striking appearance. In older individuals it is a natural frame for the effect of age upon the face. If you think you may suffer discrimination because of your grey hair, remember that with the larger number of older individuals now employed, grey hair is the rule rather than the exception.

Travelers Found Tombs in Valley Of the Kings

The Egyptian who managed the cutting of the first tomb in the Valley of the Kings put words on it with the meaning:

"It was a job such as the ancestors had not done. I shall be praised for my wisdom. Others will imitate what I have done." That man was right. Other kings had their tombs cut in the cliffs and hillsides. The valley was used by at least 30 monarchs.

The secret was kept for a while, but robbers at length learned where they might find royal treasure. One tomb after another was entered as the years went by.

The kings left money for guards who were to watch the tombs, but the money ran out in time. Very likely some of the guards were greedy for gold, and joined the tomb robbers in getting plunder!

Centuries passed, and the centuries added up to thousands of years. Then along came foreign travelers. In 1815 Belzoni, an Italian, started digging into the cliffs to see what the tombs contained. He found a few treasures, but all the tombs he visited had been robbed long before.

Much the same story may be told about Theodore Davis, an American who spent 12 years in the Valley of the Kings—from 1902 to 1914. Davis located several tombs which had not been seen in modern times. Every tomb he entered had been robbed of most of its contents, although he did obtain a few treasures.

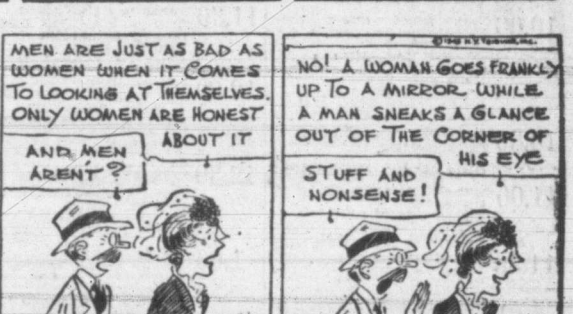

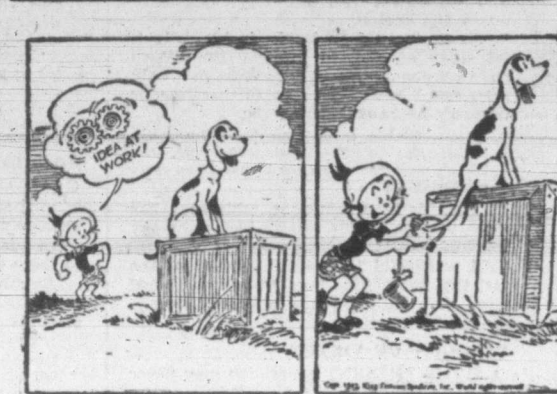

After Davis had given up hope of finding anything else of importance in the valley, two Englishmen went to work there. They were Lord Carnarvon and Howard Carter. Most of the work was directed by Carter, since Carnarvon was in ill-health.

Six years passed without a discovery of any great importance. Then, on a November day in 1922, Carter and his workmen found a sunken stairway which had been hidden by a mass of debris. This stairway led to a door. A cablegram called Lord Carnarvon from England to Egypt. Together with Carter he opened the door and saw the greatest mass of treasure ever found in a tomb. It was the treasure of King Tutankhamen. (For HISTORY section of your scrapbook.)
